THE OLD HOME CELEBRATION BEGINS TODAY

VERY SEVERE STORM VISITS THIS SECTION.

Elements Run Riot---Electrical Display Appalling.

A series of the most severe electrical storm sto visit this section in years occurred Friday night, Saturday morning and afternoon, the one Saturday afternoon being the most severe of all.

Friday night electrical storms raged, in fact for the past four days there has been recurring displays of lightning, rain downpours and hail fall until the people of this section have planned for nothing save the avoidance of getting wet.

Friday night and early Saturday morning the flashing of lightning and pealing of thunder awed most people, and kept them awake during the great part of Friday night. Saturday morning the sun shone brightly during the forenoon, and then came another shower during the noon hour. In the afternoon Old Sol smiled again, but his smile faded and shortly after four o'clock a terrific electrical storm visited Towanda. The electrical display was awe inspiring, and one flash of lightning was so near that several people in Towanda were stunned and temporarily blinded. With this flash, the electric lights went out, and for a moment every business place was in darkness, but it was only for a brief space, as the lights came on again within a minute.

This storm appears to have been local in its character, as telephone calls to various parts of the county yesterday failed to reveal any tract of the storm within a couple of miles of the county seat. There was no rain to speak of at Laquin, Powell, or in the valley of the Towanda creek. In the Eastern part of the county, wind, hail and rain accompanied the electrical display, and it is feared that the fruit crop has been badly damaged.

On Towanda hill the elements seemed to run riot and the rainfall was greater there than in Towanda. The Myers ice pond overflowed the road, and for a time it looked as if the highway in the vicinity of the ice pond and the resevoir of the Towanda Water Works company would be damaged.

The hill streets in Towanda carried away tons of water, and in some places considerable damage was done.

Bridges Carried Away.

The storm of Friday night caused a big rise in the Bahr Creek in Albany township, and two bridges were swept away. Lawrence Cullen while on his way to the milk station attempted to ford the creek where one of the bridges had been swept away. He lost two cans of milk in the endeavor to make his way across the swollen stream.

Barn Burned at Smithfield.

A barn owned by E. O. Gerould at East Smithfield, was struck by lightning Saturday morning at 6 o'clock and burned to the ground. A small quantity of hay was destroyed.

JOHN BRISTOL HELD.

Waverly Man Is Charged with Serious Crime.

John Bristol, formerly of Waverly has been held to await the action of the grand jury in Chemung county, N. Y. The charge is criminal assult in the second degree Lena Zuris, who is claimed to be fourteen years of age, made the complaint, in which she alleged that she accompanied Bristol from Waverly to Elmira on June 10 and that they remained at John Rosinsk's hotel at Baldwin and Fifth streets all night.

District Attorney Bogart appeared for the people at the preliminary examination. Bristol was not represented by an attorney. He offered no evidence on his own behalf. The Zuris girl said that she did not know how old she was. She left school about two years ago and she supposed that she was sixteen years of age at that time. She had been working for Jacob Larraby near New Albany, Pa., before she went to Sayre. She claimed that Bristol met her on the street in Waverly and told her that he had a position in Corning and that she could secure one for her in that city.

They expected to leave for Corning the morning after they remained in the hotel in Elmira, but they were captured by the police. John Rosinski, proprietor of the hotel stated that Bristol said he was married to the Zuris girl. The girl declared on the witness stand that she had never married Bristol.

AUTO RACES IN THREE CLASSES

Hill Climbing Events Will Be Big Feature.

At a meeting of the old home committee Monday night, it was decided to classify the auto races, that is have three classes in the hill climbing events. The classes will be known as A, B, and C, thus giving every car a chance for the prizes.

Class A will be for cars of 20 hp and under.

Class B will be for cars from 20 to 40 hp.

Class C will be the free for all, no car on earth barred.

These races will start at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and the course will be up the Bridge street hill. The cars will start on the East end of the wagon bridge, and time will begin at the crossing on the West side of Main street, or at the corner of the Citizens National bank and Marks clothing store. The end of the course will be at the top of Bridge street hill, and the cars reaching the end of the course in the quickest time in their respective classes will be declared the winners.

It is expected that at least 50 cars will take part in the contest, as all automobile owners are very enthusiastic, and they are anxious for the test.

That this contest is attracting considerable attention is proven by the fact that people all along the course are being asked for the privilege of sitting on lawns, roofs, and in fact every point of vantage will be occupied. Automobile racing up a hill will be new to the people of this section, and as some of the cars are expected to climb the grade at a 65 mile an hour clip, the contest will be worth coming miles to witness.

But the automobile races will not be the only big show, as the firemen's parade, and the fantastic parade on Thursday and Friday respectively, together with the athletic events, and outdoor features will be big numbers.

Following the firemen's parade on Thursday there will be a drill contest between Towanda's crack companies, the best drilled in the State; also hub and hub and other races. The Towanda Fire Department, the finest drilled, uniformed and equipped volunteer department in the country.

Music will be another feature of the celebration. The Laquin Cornet band will furnish music for the firemen's parade, while on Friday there will be two bands and a drum corps for the fantastic parade. J. E. Graham who is in charge of the fantastic parade expects to have at least 25 floats in the pageant.

Then there are the ball games, one each day. Laquin plays Towanda Thursday afternoon, Friday Laceyville comes for a tussle with the locals, and on Saturday the Waverly semi-professional team will try conclusions with Towanda's fast aggregation.

As has been stated before there will be something doing every minute. There will be something to amuse, as well as educate and entertain.

The meetings in the Historical Society rooms, Court House and opera house each day will of sufficient interest to warrant packed houses.

Come to Towanda on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and have the time of your life.

ROMAN WENT WEST AND LIVED FOUR DAYS

Charles Rolls Died Suddenly After Long Journey.

Word was received in Rome Tuesday afternoon of the death in Colorado City, Colorado, of Charles Rolls, who for many years was engaged in the harnessmaking business in that village. Death was due to kidney trouble.

On June 9, Mr. Rolls left Rome for the West, and four days after he reached the home of his daughter in Colorada City, death claimed him. He was in excellent health when he bade his old friends in Rome goodbye, and the announcement of his death Tuesday caused great surprise.

Deceased was about 65 years of age, and for many years he was a well known and highly respected resident of Rome His relatives had all drifted West, and lately he had longed to be near them. His sudden and unexpected death is deeply regretted by his many friends in the Eastern part of the county.

PROFESSIONAL AUTO DRIVERS ARE HERE

Will Participate in the Hill Climbing Contests.

A number of professional automobile drivers arrived in Towanda yesterday to get in shape for the hill climbing contests on Saturday. These drivers are experienced in driving racing cars, some of them having a country wide reputation for daring. They inspected the Bridge street Hill course yesterday and pronounced it equal to if not superior to the far famed Giant's Despair course in Wilkes-Barre. Ralph DePalma, the winner at Wilkes-Barre, who was to have taken part in the races, has wired the committee that owing to an accident to his car and slight injuries he will be unable to send his 200 hp. Fiat up the Bridge street hill. However, he expects to be in Towanda to give a demonstration with his new racing car, the exact power and speed of which he says he will make known only to the State Highway department at Harrisburg. "The people of this place could make this one of the automobile racing centres of the country if they half tried," said one of the professional drivers last evening. There is a possibility of action being taken following Saturday's contests of forming an automobile association which will have as its object the promoting of racing in Towanda and vicinity.

CHARTER AMENDMENT IS GRANTED BY THE COURT.

M. P. A. of Sayre, Can Now Write Class D Policies.

An amendment to the charter of the Mutual Protective Association of Sayre, was granted by Judge Fanning Monday at the request of C. C. Yocum, attorney for the association.

The amended charter will permit the company to write a new policy to be known in the future as Class D. At the same time the association abandons the Class B policy, although it still has a charter right to issue that form of insurance. The Class B policy is the one which has been so widely sold during the past few years by the N. P. L., the M. P. A. and others, it being a five year, dividend paying policy. The M. P. A. has found that it is unable to pay $250 on such policies and still do a safe business, so those who now hold that form of insurance will be permitted to carry them to their expiration but no more are to be written.

The M. P. A. will in the future issue three different policies. First there is the Class A policy, which is straight life insurance. The Class C policy is health, accident and life, but makes no provision for different occupations. It is said to be the best policy for those whose occupations are hazardous. The Class D policy, which can now be issued under the charter as amended, provides for health, accident and a small life insurance to be paid by monthly istallments and the benefits received are in accordance to whether the occupation of the policy holder is hazardous or not. This is said to be the best policy for those whose occupation is free from danger. The agents of the association will begin writing the Class D policies at once.

Slight Fire Monday.

Monday shortly after noon an alarm was sent in to the Towanda fire department saying that the store room in the Bailey block occupied by Manley's grocery store was on fire. The companies responded quickly to the call but when they arrived on the scene it was found that it was all smoke and no fire. Some old papers and other trash had been placed in the stove and a match was applied. The stove pipe and flue were clogged so that there was no draft and the smoke made its way out in the store room. The difficulty was overcome before the companies arrived and without any damage being done.

Father Shanley on Operating Table.

Rev. Father Shanley of Sayre was operated upon in the French Hospital at New York City, yesterday for appendicitis and at midnight gave every indication of a quick recovery. Father Shanley went to New York to consult with Dr. Richard Gibbons, who at once decided upon the operation. It is Father Shanley's intention to leave within two weeks for a trip to Europe to recuperate if his health permits.

The people of Grover and vicinity were shocked recently to learn that Mrs. Giles, formerly Helen Eastgate, had become insane and has been removed to a sanitarium near Chicago. While in Grover she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her quiet pleasant demeanor caused her to be loved by all. No cause is designated for her present condition and at present she shows no improvement. —Canton World.

Visit Towanda Printing Company Plant During Celebration.

The new home of the Towanda Printing Company, publishers of The Daily Review and the Reporter-Journal will be open for inspection during the old home and old people's celebrations. The public is invited to visit the office and make an inspection of the plant.

Don't fail to make an inspection of the finest printing plant in this section during the big celebration which begins today.

TRAINED STEER WILL BE A FEATURE OF FANTASTIC PARADE

Mrs. Preston Will Drive Animal With Bit and Rein.

One of the many features of the fantastic parade Friday afternoon, the second old home day, will be a trained steer hitched to a wagon, and driven by rein and bit. This animal is as gentle as a horse, and has been used by Mrs. Preston to haul milk to the creamery for a long time. She will drive the animal in the parade, arrangements having been made with her yesterday to come to Towanda.

Here are some of the floats which will be in the parade:

A. B. McCraney.
Morris Wrecking Company.
James Frazer, coal.
Q. A. Kline, the pride of the City.
The Cotton Pickers.
The American Girls.
Shepard Bristol, meat.

And many others.

Murray, the Waverly sign and scenic artist, has been busy several days painting banners and arranging the floats. It will surely be the biggest and best thing of the kind ever seen in Northern Pennsylvania, says John E. Graham, the grand marshal and official announcer, and he knows, for he is "right on the job" all the while.

Anyone desiring a float in the parade are requested to call at Graham's blacksmith shop any time during the day.

FAMOUS RUNNER HAS ENTERED FOOT RACES

Bly Watts, Champion of State College, Will Compete.

Blythe D. Watts of Canton, champion two mile runner of State College, and undoubtedly one of the fastest sprinters in the country, has entered the foot races which are to take place on Friday, the second old home days. Mr. Watts states in his letter that he will surely start in the two mile race for the championship of Bradford county, and if conditions are favorable he will also compete in the mile and half mile events.

O. A. Goodwin of East Towanda, is another runner who will give a good account of himself. In the three mile race at the fair last Fall, he led for two miles and a half, and lost when he stopped, thinking that he had covered the entire three miles.

It is expected that Arthur Fairchild of Towanda, the fastest two mile runner at Bucknell university will also compete in the two mile event. Capwell, the present champion distance runner of the county, Crandell, one of the best in this section, and other good sprinters have entered and they will make a race worth coming miles to see. The young men hired the outfit of a Corning liverman, and after becoming intoxicated, started on a long drive. They sold the outfit to a man named Spencer Gernant, and a short time later Officer Fred Costello of Troy, who was on their trail placed them under arrest.

The father, Melvin B Moore, of West Avenue, believes that his son did not commit suicide and therefore demands an inquest. The bullet taken from the young man's head fits the revolver found in his hand. The general opinion is that Moore shot himself."

Blossoming Second Time.

S. M. Huston of Towanda township, yesterday sent to this office limbs of fruit trees which are blossoming the second time this season. Not only are the trees in blossom the second time, but young fruit is plentiful on the branches, thus making the unique combination of blossoms and well developed fruit on the same branch. Mr. Huston has an apple and also a pear tree which are passing through this unusual stage.

Change Making Device.

The first National Bank of Sayre was not the first financial institution in this section to install a change making machine as some have been led to believe. The First National Bank of Towanda has had one of these useful devices in use for several days, and it is proving very handy. The machine will make change in any amount from one cent up to a dollar.

DUSHORE HAS A REAL MYSTERY.

Badly Decomposed Body of a Man Found in Abandoned House

Dushore has a real mystery, which at present bids fair to never be solved.

Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, John O'Neil and Ashley Davis, railroad section hands, entered an old house owned by Thomas Hickok, and attracted by a peculiar odor went up stairs and there on the bare floor found the badly decomposed body of a well dressed man.

Dr. Heermans and the coroner of Sullivan county were summoned, and investigation disclosed the fact that the man had been dead for a long time. Dr. Heermans opined that death had occurred at least two months ago.

There was not a scratch of paper, or anything by which the identity of the deceased might be established, and the body was so badly decomposed that to ascertain the cause of death is next to impossible. The body was well dressed, the clothes being of excellent material. A railroad ticket in one of the pockets bore the name of a small town in the Western part of the State.

There is no one missing in the vicinity of Dushore, and the authorities are at a loss to account for the death of the man. The house in which the body was found has not been occupied for several years.

The body was rolled in a blanket and buried in the Quinn cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Must Be Stopped.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of a number of North Towanda boys for breaking window glasses in the Drury factory building North Towanda, Saturday afternoon one of the boys was given a hearing before 'Squire Meredith and owing to the tender age of the boy and wanting to give him another chance, 'Squire discharged the defendant. This practice has been going on for some time, not only at the Drury building, but the Hawes factory and a number of other buildings have been damaged by the throwing of stones and other depredations. This practice must and will be stopped and the next offender will be dealt with very severely. The complaint was made by J. Monroe Ayres, who says that he does not want to prosecute any one but he will not stand for the damage of his property by mischevous boys.

Concert at New Albany.

A concert was given in the Baptist church at New Albany on last Friday night by Misses Neva Walter and Florence Memory of Pittston. Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear yourself out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort.

Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking — none in outside heating.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat — no smell — no smoke.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick — it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat —no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it — consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot.

It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER

Rev. Sherman A. Chubbuck.

Rev. Sherman A. Chubbuck, a retired M. E. minister, died at his home in Orwell at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, after a several months illness with heart trouble. Deceased was born in Orwell about 80 years ago. In 1860 he went to Minnesota, where he engaged in business, and later was admitted to the Minnesota, conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He came East shortly after entering the ministry, and for many years was a member of the Central New York M. E. conference. Of late years he has been retired, and passed his declining years in peace and contentment on his home farm at Orwell. He was highly regarded both as a plain citizen and as a minister of the gospel, and a host of friends will deeply deplore his demise. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Caplena Pendleton of Orwell, also one daughter, Miss Alice Chubbuck, and one son, Charles P. Chubbuck, both of Orwell. The late O. J. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. H. Orcutt Monday afternoon John Penesco who was charged with the larceny of a pair of trousers and vest from the Hub store was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and the costs of prosecution. He settled.

It will be remembered that Penesco was arrested on Saturday evening by Special Officer Allen for being drunk and disorderly. It was on this same evening that Penesco purloined the clothing. In company with a friend Penesco went into The Hub and while his partner attracted the attention of the clerks, Penesco stole the trousers and vest. As they were leaving the store the clerk observed part of the clothing sticking out from under Penesco's coat and he immediately called an officer who placed him under arrest.

At the hearing he plead guilty to the charge and said that he was under the influence of liquor when he committed the crime. After he paid the fine and costs he promised the Justice and H. A. Kaufman, the prosecutor, that he was through with drink and in the future he would be more careful in his actions.

SOCIAL

ELABORATE AFFAIR.

Was the Dance Given in Columbus Hall Wednesday Evening.

One of the most elaborate social affairs yet to be given in the City of Promise this season was the dancing party in oClumbus hall Wednesday night. It was given by the Alpha Beta club, composed of twelve of Towanda's popular young ladies, and reflects much credit on their ability to entertain.

The hall was beautifully decorated with bunting, flowers and ferns, the decorating being done by members of the club and their friends. Nearly 150 pennants, representing as many different schools and colleges, were artistically arranged around on the walls. In each corner of the hall was placed a large jardinier filled with flowers and the small anti rooms on the West side of the hall were elaborately furnished to be used as cozy corners. The pillars in the hall were entwined with garlands of ribbons, the club colors, cherry and black, being carried out in the color scheme. The orchestra was placed behind a miniature fence interwoven with cherry and black ribbon and behind a bank of ferns.

At nine o'clock sharp, Walker's orchestra struck up the grand march which was led by Miss Katherine Lewis, president of the club and Howard McGill. Following this the orchestra played a fine program of dances which were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. During the intermission, Mrs. Lusch the cateress, served light refreshments to the dancers.

The patronesses were: Mrs. James Lewis, Miss Laura Blake, Mrs. B. S. Harden, Mrs. H. L. Bradley, Mrs. H. T. Barcus, Mrs. G. L. Fairchild, Mrs. G. S. Russell, Mrs. R. B. Drake, Mrs. C. B. Maryott, Mrs. E. A. Bostwick, Mrs J. E. Muir and Mrs. E. J. Miller.

MORE ABOUT LITCHFIELD TOWNSHIP'S NEW ROAD.

Information Contained in a Communication to This Paper.

A correspondent sends the following communication to this paper: We would like to have the people whom it may concern know the facts in regard to the proposed new road, which is driving the people of Litchfield most frantic. This is the new road that the people asked for about a year ago and was petitioned for by about seventy-five tax payers of Litchfield asking the Commissioners to lay out and open the public. The Litchfield Commissioners met and refused to lay out the road. Foreign Commissioners were then asked for by the petitioners. "Russell of Rome township was chosen by the petitioners and Tom Murphy of Athens township was chosen by the Commissioners. The two foreign commissioners met and the third man chosen was Fred White of Wysox township. The time of meeting was set and the Commissioners met on the proposed road which starts near Perry's corners and terminates near Barney Kains and granted the petitioners the road which has a grade of 7-1-2 in the steepest place, while the public is now traveling over a mountain which is about one mile long with a grade of 17-3-4.

"The home commissioners feeling grieved over the decision of the foreign commissioners they carried it before the Judge who set the proceedings aside on the grounds that there was an error in the petition. But the petitioners and traveling public bought it unjust to make their teams climb up that enormous hill when so easy a grade is available. So the Litchfield commissioners was again petitioned for the same road. They met and looked the ground over and after a long consitation with each other Wolcott and Rogers decided not to lay the road. One of Rogers' reasons for not laying the road, so he said, was that he was afriad he would be killed if he did so.

"Prepartions were again made to call out foreign commissioners and last Monday ...e parties met at Litchfield and the men were chosen. The Litchfield commissioners backed up the east side of Windham township and chose a man by the name of Clyde Schnieder. While the petitioners chose Reuben Horton of Rome township, a man who is known to be one of the most trusty and upright men in this section of the country.

"Schieder and Horton were notified by the clerk that they had been chosen. They made a date and met June 16 at Steven Stalls but did not come to any agreement.

"Schnieder chose two men from Cadis township farther on east and positively refused to choose any in this section. Horton tried to get to some agreement but it was no use, it was two commissioners from Cadis or none. Horton thonght he could smell a rat.

"Horton agreed to take a man from Schnieder's own township but that he would not do. Horton then proposed picking two men from each of the following townships and let Schnieder pick a man from out of one of these. He named Rome, Orwell, Wysox, Sheshequin, Ulster, Athens, Smithfield and Windham which is Schnieder's own township. Schnieder deliberately refused to pick from any of these towns. Just the two men from Cadis were all he had in view and he would not consent to any other.

"So now it is up to the petitioners to wait for a reply from the court.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be banner days in Towanda, the old home celebration and old people's reception and entertainment being the attractions. Fine programs have been arranged for each day, and with favorable weather, there will be large atendances each day. Make it a point to spend the three days in the City of Promise. The dates are June 23—24—25.

The Oddest Egg Ever.

Comet eggs have been very numerous in this section since Halley's wanderer wandered around in the upper air and finally disappeared in the West, but not until yesterday did anyone come to the front with henfruit encased in a squash shaped shell. Benjamin Walborn of Liberty Corners, is the owner of the hen, a Black Minorca, which layed this freakish appearing egg. The shell is hard, and to get an exact idea as to its looks, just picture in your mind one of those long necked Summer squashes which are so easy to carry, simply because the slim end resembles a handle. Do this and you have the correct "hunch" in connection with this egg which was exhibited in Towanda yesterday by Mr. Walborn. This egg came into the world some time ago and the hen is still alive and doing well.

THE DEMOCRATIC FIASCO.

When the delegates to the Democratic state convention turned their faces toward Allentown the fore part of last week there was little thought that anyone but C. L. Munson, the Wiliamsport lawyer who made such a good run for supreme court judge last fall, would be named for governor. But the fates are not often kind to the Democtrats in Pennsylvania, and at the eleventh hour Mr. Munson wrote a letter withdrawing as a candidate, and the convention—because it had to name some one—went on and nominated Senator Webster T. Grim of Bucks county, whom no one expects to be elected. The feeling among Democrats is that in some way or other they have been cheated out of a strong candidate for governor, and they are mad and disgusted. Munson has given no satisfactory explanation of it and up to date his friends and his party are in the dark concerning it. Munson was without doubt the strongest man the Democrats could have named. Berry had quite a following, but not, it seems, sufficient to nominate him after the Williamsport man had withdrawn. The Democrats were preparing to put up under Munson's lead the hardest fight in years and were loud in their claims that if they didn't land their man in the governor's chair they would at least "keep us stepping." They were probably claiming too much, but it would undoubtedly have been harder to beat Munson than anyone else. However, we are not here to sympathize with our enemies, and they may straighten out their wrangle and get out of their trouble as best they can. The next governor of Pennsylvania will be, as unsual, a Republican, and he is being nominated at Harrisburg now.

There is another sure thing in connection with Munson's withdrawal—it will have a markedly depressing effect on Democratic chances in the congressional elections throughout the state. There were a few districts in which the Democratic nominees were counting on the popularity and well known running qualities of Mr. Munson to carry them through to victory. In this district one of Mr. Kipp's most substantial aids would have been the fact that he had on the ticket with him the supreme court candidate of last fall who reversed the heavy Republican majority in Bradford and carried the county by more than 800 votes. It would have been a big help, indeed. The Democratic nominee for congress would be defeated even had he been fortunate enough to have Mr. Munson for a runing mate. Without him, with the Democrats of the county and state chargrinned and disgusted by the developments at Allentown last week, Mr. Kipp's defeat is surer than ever.

WILL MR. KIPP RUN?

A prominent politician of the county when asked by the Reporter-Journal on Monday what he thought of the congressional contest in this district since the withdrawal of Munson said: "It's all off. Kipp is not going to run. "We have no warrant at this time to say that Mr. Kipp will not stand as a candidate in the coming campaign, but we are credibly informed that since the flunk at Allentown last week he has expressed a disinclination to run, and that some of his very best friends have advised him not to. We are not surprised at this. It is entirely natural that, under the circumstances, the Democratic candidates for congress in this district should now hesitate to accept the nomination and go on with the fight. It would be surprising if he didn't. The chances were decidedly against him before the Democratic fiasco at Allentown; now Kipp is a plucky fighter, and should he now take counsel of his fears and decline to go on, he could not in fairness be called "a quitter," for he is doomed in advance to be defeated. It remains to be seen what he will do.

ADJOURNMENT NEAR.

The congress now in session some time ago waked up and showed a disposition to work which is creditable to it. The result is that much is being accomplished. It is believed adjournment will come in a few days—possibly this week, and by that time the session will have to its credit an array of needed and highly important legislation, on which the Republican party can well afford to go before the country in the coming congressional elections and ask to be continued in power. And all honor to President Taft for the way in which he has secured what the country wanted, and that to which the Republican party was pledged.

A LECTURE TO PARENTS.

The mother who alows a fifteen-year old daughter to float around the township in a top buggy until 2 a. m., with a counterfeit sport of weak jaw and weaker morals, mearly opens the front door to grief and disgrace. If you don't know what company your girl keeps, or what time of nights she turns in, your roar when the gossips get busy will sound about as pathetic as the wheeze of a Jew's harp. The girl who insists on spooning with everybody in the corporation limits ought to be locked in the woodshed and relieved of her overflow of affection with a number eleven slipper laid carelessly across the hiplets. We had sooner see a girl kiss a blind shoat through a barbed wire fence than have her change partners six nights a week in the front parlor with the lights turned low. It is harder to marry off a girl who has been pawed over by every yap in the community than it is to fatten a sheep on pineapple ice. You can't gold-brick a sharp-eyed suitor with second-hand gods any more than you can fit a bath robe on a goat. There are lots of weakminded parents who are going up against the judgement day with about as much show as a cross-eyed girl has at a beauty show, and their children will rise up and call them blessed with the enthusiasm of a one-legged man at a club dance.—Fairport Herald.

MORE ABOUT THE ROAD DRAG.

The following item is printed for the benefit of certain Wellesboro officials, and does not apply to the many farmers and Supervisors hereabouts who are up-to-date enough to know a good thing when they see it, the King road drag and make use of the device which is rapidly putting the country roads around Wellsboro in fine shape, particularly in Catlin Hollow, where several miles of road have been worked with the drag. These men use the drag at the right time immediately after a rain, in the mud and follow other directions given by its inventor, D. Ward King. There is a great contrast between the dirt roads in the borough limits and those outside.

A Western editor says: "Don't stick up your nose at the King drag. It will make a sour road look sweet in less time than any other device known to man. The only objections to it is that it is too darned simple. It ought to have three or four flywheels, fifty or sixty cogs, and a few hundred coil springs attached to it. Then if $285 f. o. b. Chicago were charged for it, it mnght come into general use. As it is, it is handicapped by cheapness. Nobody wants a road drag that costs only a few boards off the back fence, a bolt or two from the windmill, and a fistfull of skinned knuckles."—Kansas City Star.

"The National Grange" hits the nail on the head when it says: "While the growing use of the motor car in the country districts and the systematic improvement of our country roads will be of incalculable benefit both to the farmer and to the nation, there is an abuse both of the motor car and of the roads which all must unite in suppressing, and that is reckless driving. The law abiding car owner has no use for the speed fiend because he brings automobiles into disrepute. The manufacturer has no use for the speed fiend because the resulting abuse of the car depreciates it and the maker gets the blame. The roadmaker has no use for the speed fiend because it is the abuse of the roads by the motor vehicles and not their proper which tears them up. The public have no use for the speed fiend because he is a common danger to life and limb. By force of public opinion, by education, and if need be, by drastic penalties, he must be eliminated, and the feeling of the farmers in this matter is shared by every right-thinking person in the community. The day of the irresponsible chauffeur is drawing to a close."

The railroad farm for supplying the dining cars with food supplies has become an American institution. The hotel farm has been established for many years, and is still appreciated by the hotel proprietors as well as their guests, though some of the latter do not know what a farm is at all. The Northern Pacific Railroad where it is claimed that 11,000 Leghorn hens lay eggs for gentlemen and others who eat in the cars all over the system. The road also has a dairy farm where 300 high-bred cows are kept to provide milk, cream and butter for the traveling dining-rooms. The same railroad also has a large bakery at Seattle and another at St. Paul, and that various kinds. It may be that this is the age for man to specialize, but the corporations are inclined to be farmers and bakers as well as railroad owners and managers, and in some cases they are also foresters and miners, and even water-power developers, for they have to have electricity now or in the future, and power is useful to them in many ways.

When aproaching vehicles going in the opposite direction turn to the right. When the driver of a more rapidly moving vehicle signals you from the rear that he intends to pass you, you should turn to your right to pass by on the left. The right of the road is where you belong under the law at all times. Because it is customary to drive in the center does not give you any right to be there. If an accident occures and you are not on the right side of the road that is if you are in the center or on the left side, you are likely to be held entirely responsible. Many make the mistake of turning to the left when an automobile signals them from behind. This is dangerous, as the automobilist is likely to swing to left and run into you. Drivers of all vehilcles are required to go to the left when passing any vehicle from the rear, according to the rules of the road, which too few people observe.

An exchange tells of a farmer who has kept a flock of sheep for fourteen years, and says he has not had them attacked by dogs even once, though flocks on adjoining farms have been ruined. They always wear from five to eight bells of different sizes and tones. There is not a dog in the world with courage enough to attack a flock of sheep well equipped with bells.

ROSE FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS

"Musical Among the Roses" a Fitting Climax.

The Rose Festival held Tuesday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church, was a decided, as well as a charming success

The exhibit was in every way in quality of flowers displayed, and in arrangement for staging, even more succesaful than Towanda's first rose fair or festival one year ago.

Harry N. Hoffman, the well known Elmira florist, who acted as judge, and Mr. Knapp the Sayre florist, who was also in attendance, pronounced the exhibit superior in quality, though not in quantity to the Syracuse Rose Fair at which they were judges a few days ago. Although it is to be regretted that not all of Towanda's growers had flowers on exhibition, still enough were displayed to make the festival noteworthy. Many of the most beautiful roses were sent in for decoration purposes instead of in competition.

The appearance of the platform and organ banked by roses, mingled with the great bundles of carnations, and sweet peas generously presented by Mr. Knapp, together with many other flowers contributed by interested friends made a most beautiful picture.

The roses entered for competition were arrangede on the edge of the platform and on tables in front. Many of the flowers showed such perfection of form that the judge found a decision a matter of great nicety. The prizes were awarded as follows:

Best collection of white roses, Judge Fanning.

Best collection of pink roses, Judge Fanning.

Best collection of red roses, Judge Fanning.

Best mixed collection, first prize, Dr. C. M. Pratt; second prize Mrs. A. C. Blackwell.

Margaret Dickson, first prize J. H. Humphries; second prize, G. B. Winter.

LaFrance, Mrs. Gunton.

Druschki, first prize, G. B. Winter; second prize, Mrs. A. C. Blackwell.

Killarney, Mrs. W. W. Jennings.

Paul Negron, first prize, J. H. Humphries; second prize, Judge Fanning.

Golden Sun, Mrs. A. C. Blackwell.

Clio, first prize G. B. Winter; second prize, Mrs. A. C. Blackwell.

Kaisarin Augusta Victoria, J. H. Humphries.

Richmond, Mrs. W. W. Jennings.

Baroness Rothschild, J. H. Humphries.

American Beauty, Dr. C. S. Rogers.

Magna Charta, Mrs. A. Campbell.

A fine collection of 12 varieties sent by Mrs. E. F. Kizer, and six varieties of Teas sent by Dr. C. S. Rogers, neither collection entered in the competition, must not pass unnoticed.

The idea of a rose fair was first worked out in Towanda by Rev. E. M. Mills, D. D., now of Syracuse, N. Y., who at that time was pastor of the First M. E. church in Towanda. The fair was held in the M. E. church one year ago, and while it was the first of the kind ever held in this section it was a decided success, and was really the foundation of what now promises to be a great event in Towanda each year. Towanda is in an ideal location, as to climate for the cultivating and growing of roses. It is said by experts that the roses grown in Towanda are equal to the far famed California roses. This is remarkable when it is remembered that in the neighboring county of Tioga it is almost impossible to cultivate or raise even a scrub rose bush.

During his short talk on roses at the society for the cultivation and promoting of the growing of roses would be formed in Towanda in the near future, and that the rose fair or festival would be an annual event.

Dr. Mills, the originator of the idea is now writing a book on roses, and inthe near future will attend a big rose fair in England.

"Musical Among the Roses."

The Rose Festival had a fitting climax last evening when "A Musical Among the Roses" was given in the M. E. church. A large audience listened to a remarkably fine musical program given under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Ruggles, and fully worthy of Towanda's enviable reputation as a musical centre.

There were two numbers by the women's chorus, consisting of about 20 voices; a short talk on roses by Judge Fanning; piano duett by Miss Heerman and Mrs. Myer; tenor solo by Mr. Kerrick; a Male quartette consisting of Messrs. Russell, Dayton, Kerrick and Stevens, gave two fine numbers; two good violin solos by Mrs. John L. Meredith; solo by Mr. Dayton; and a piano solo by Miss Herrman. The singing of the women's chorus was especially fine, the Gipsy Chorus of difficult music fairly "bringing down the house."

Each number was generously applauded, and in some cases the applause was continued until a second number was given. This, in a measure, tells of the goodness of the entertainment.

After the musical feast, the eyes were refreshed by the sight of the roses, while the inner man partook of ice cream and wafers.

Too much praise cannot be given the committee, and its efficient chairman, Mrs. George A. Dayton, who made the rose fair such a complete success.

Grew Worse in Spite of Six Months of Ablest Treatment—Sleep Terribly Broken—Face, Head and Hands Masses of Dreadful Humor.

A SINGLE SET OF CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I feel it my duty to let you know with what success I have used the Cuticura Remedies. When our baby was seven weeks old he broke out with what we thought was heat but which gradually grew worse. We called in a doctor. He said it was eczema and from that time we doctored six months with three of the best doctors in Atchison but he only got worse. His face, head and hands were a solid sore. There was no end to the suffering for him. We had to tie his little hands to keep him from scratching. He never knew what it was to sleep well from the time he took the disease until he was cured. He kept us awake all hours in the night and his health wasn't what you would call good. We tried everything but the right thing. Finally I got a set of the Cuticura Remedies and am pleased to say we did not use all of them until he was cured. We have waited a year and a half to see if it would return but it never has and to-day his skin is clear and fair as it possibly could be. I hope Cuticura may save some one else's little one's suffering and also their pocket-books. John Leason, 1403 Atchison St., Atchison, Kan., Oct. 19, 1909."

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.s

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

ST. AGNES HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

Commencement Exercises Held Tuesday Evening.

Nine young people who have finished their studies in the St. Agnes High school, received their diplomas and were graduated from this well known and successful parochial institution of learning Tuesday evening.

The exercises were held in the St. Agnes Auditorium, and the attendance was very large.

The stage was handsomely decorated, and everything was in keeping with the event which was all-important to the young people who have completed the course of study required before a diploma is granted by Rev. Father Coroner, and the Sisters in charge of the school.

Following are the names of the members of the graduating class:

Maurice James Allen.
John Joseph O'Herron.
Daniel Joseph Hurley.
Paul O'Donovan Nagle.
Mary Teresa O'Keefe.
Elizabeth Mary Connolly.
Anna Catherine Barrett.
Mary Gertrude Anthony.
Florence Elizabeth Fitzgerald.

The class made a fine appearance on the stage, as did the pupils of the school who took part in the commencement exercises. "Through Trials to Triumph" was the class motto, while the class flower was the white rose.

As is customary in St. Agnes High school the commencement exercises consists of an entertainment in which the pupils as well as the graduates take part. This school has built a fine reputation in this line, as well as for sending out graduates who have been an honor to the school and to the town. The exercises last evening were no exception, in fact they added to the fine standing of the school.

Following the overture of the School orchestra, the opening chorus, "Come, Join the Dance," was sung to fine effect by the members of the class and the pupils of the school all assembled on the stage. At the close of the chorus, Paul O. Nagle delivered the salutatory. He spoke nicely, and distinctly, and his manner and speech showed the fine school training which he has had.

Following "American Melodies" by the school orchestra, a number of little boys and girls sang "When Papa Leaves Home in the Morning", receiving deserved applause. Miss Agnes Welch gave a splendid piano solo which displayed her talent as a pianist.

A playet, or dialogue rather entitled "The Double Throne, or Religion and Patriotism, was excellently given by the members of the graduating class assisted by some of the juniors. Following is the cast:

Young America .....Maurice J. Allen
Courage .....Paul D. Nagle
War .....Daniel J. Hurley
Capital .....John J. O'Herron
Uncle Sam .....John J. Connolly
Patriotism .....Arthur T. Burchill
Trusts .....Joseph J. Bustin
Free Press .....Donald J. Fitzgerald
Labor .....Cletus J. Harrison
Striker .....Joseph Meehan
Religion .....Elizabeth Fitzgerald
Science ..... Gertrude Anthony
Piety .....Mary O'Keefe
Past .....Anna Barrett
Future .....Bessie Connolly
Present ..... Anne Cleary
Arbitration ..... Alice Welch
Peace ..... Nellie Kinney
Loyalty ..... Teresa McMahon
Liberty ..... Laura McNeal

"A Day in the Woods," by the juveniles proved to be one of the prettiest as well as the best rendered cantatas ever seen in St. Agnes hall. Miss Agnes Welsh and Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald furnished the piano accompaniment for this number, the music added to the charm of the cantata.

"Gypsy Zoe" by the junior girls, and a specialty, "I am Going to Tell on You" by Masters Edward Coleman and Joseph Lush were excellent numbers, and elicted much applause. Miss Cleary's piano solo, "The Maiden's Blush" was excellent.

"The Funny Folks Debating and Improvement Society" by the junior boys was a scream. The lads organized a society, and held a meeting, and proved to be very clever actors.

Physical culture by young ladies, was splendid; and Miss Gertrude Anthony's piano solo was excellent.

The fancy drill by the St. Agnes Guards proved to be one of the features of the entertainment. Joseph Scully, late of the U. S. Army has been drilling the Guards, and the exhibition last evening proves that he is an excellent drillmaster. Arthur Carroll is captain of the Guards, and John Crimmins lieutenant.

Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald delivered the valedictory in a splendid manner. Her voice was choked with emotion at times, and her eyes filled with tears when it came to bidding the Sisters, classmates and the school goodbye.

Rev. Father Coroner distributed the diplomas and also a number of gold medals. The reverend gentleman made a nice address in which he complimented the pupils and the Sisters, and praised Prof. H. S. Putnam, county superintendent of schools for his kidness toward St. Agnes school.

The playing of the school orchestra was one of the features of the entertainment. This orchestra is made up of pupils of St. Agnes school as follows: Violins: Misses Alice Ronan, Sylvia Marks, Clara Loewns, Masters Howard Johnson, Francis Begley, Robert Clancy, Thomas Fitzgerald; Cornet, Edward Lynch; Drum John Griffin; Piano, Master Donald Fitzgerald; Anna Hogan, Margaret Burchill, Catherine Begley.

St. Agnes High school is an institution of which Towanda is justly proud, and that the fine class which graduated Tuesday night will be a credit to the school and to the town goes without saying.

LARGEST MEETING OF PACKER HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ON RECORD

Held at Sayre Yesterday—Report of the Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliaries of the Robert Packer hospital was held at Sayre Tuesday. The visiting auxiliaries were the guests of the Waverly, Sayre and Athens Auxiliaries at luncheon, which was served in the parlors of the Presbyterian church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Louis Piollet, with 250 members present. Mrs. Piollet expressed her gratification at seeing so large an attendance. She spoke of the tributes of the deceased members, Mrs. Maurice and Miss Elmer.

The reports of the different auxiliaries were then given by the secretaries and treasurers and showed a large membership, more interest, and more money raised than ever before. Each auxiliary reported a contribution to the Memorial fund for Dr. Ott. After all business had been transacted Mrs. Piollet introduced the new surgeon-in-Chief Dr. Guthrie.

Dr. Guthrie expressed his apologies for being unable to be present at the luncheon. His absence was due to three accident cases which required operations. He stated that the year's report does not show so much work as last year on account of Dr. Ott's illness and death. The hospital is now getting back to its former number of patients. Eighteen beds have just been ordered. Dr. Guthrie said that the loyal support of the members helped his determination to keep the hospital up to Dr. Ott's standard. He paid a high tribute to Dr. Ott, saying that he had not only performed wonderful surgery, but that he had built up the hospital. Dr. Guthrie said that he hoped to live up to the ideals of Dr. Ott, and of his own father.

A rising vote of thanks was given Dr. Guthrie, and the Waverly, Sayre, and Athens auxiliaries for the entertainment of the guests. Adjournment followed.

LEHIGH VALLEY TO BUILD CUTOFF.

New Line Will Eliminate Heavy Grade and Reduce Mileage.

The final survey has been made and the right of way secured for the new Lehigh Valley railroad's $2,000,000 branch between Lumber Yard on the Hazelton branch, and Hayes Creek, on the main line of the Lehigh Valley one mile east of the village Tannery.

This branch will start at Lumber Yard, two miles west of Weatherly, and pass through a picturesque part of Evergreen and Lowrytown valleys, and through old Buck Mountain, one of the oldest anthracite coal mining towns in Pennsylvania. It will run along at the foot of Buck Mountain, thence across the old stages, en route from Easton to Wyoming Valley; thence through the Briar Patch, crossing the Central Railroad of New Jersey's Drifton branch, one mile west of Drifton Junction. It will also cross the main line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh river, opposite Hayes Creek, by an immense bridge, 90 feet high and over a quarter of a mile long. The bridge, costing approximately $1,200,000, will take about two years to build.

Test holes are now being made along Hayes creek and the Lehigh river in search for solid rock on which to build the mammoth piers. A number of test holes have reached a depth of eight feet below the bed of the river, and glacial deposits have been encountered the entire depth.

The new branch, when completed, will cut off two very heavy and dangerous grades between Lumber Yard and Penn Haven Junction, and a heavy pull of 15 miles between Penn Haven Junction and Hayes creek. The distance by the present route is about 30 miles, and via the proposed new route about 12 miles, with practically a level roadbed.

It is expected to handle over 1,500 loaded coal and freight cars per week for western points, at an immense saving.—Potston Gazette.

MAN KILLED ON LEHIGH NEAR TUNKHANNOCK.

Was Walking on Tracks When Fast Freight Struck Him.

Samuel Barnes of Bayone, N. J., was struck and instantly killed by a Lehigh Valley fast freight train near Tunkhannock, Sunday morning but no blame attaches to the company.

Barnes and a companion were walking on the Lehigh tracks some distance from a grade crossing. They were working in search of jobs. They were walking on the eastbound track and were apparently in conversation. When the fast freight train approached it was heard by Barnes' companion and he jumped from the tracks in time to escape death. But Barnes evidently did not hear the train for he made no attempt to escape.

The train was symbol freight B. J. No. 4 in charge of Wilbur Kispaugh of Sayre, as conductor and James West of Sayre as engineer.

ALL THREE SUPERVISORS ARE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

'Squire Meredith Decides Case of Burlington Township Supervisors.

'Squire John Meredith on Saturday handed down an opinion in the case of the Commonwealth vs. E. W. Wheeler, E. A. Knapp, and J. O. Nichols, road supervisors of Burlington township, in which he holds all three responsible for the condition of the roads in said township. For failing to observe or comply with the law which requires that all loose stones be removed from the highways during certain months of the year, the 'Squire assessed a fine of $10, which must be paid jointly by Messrs. Nichols, Knapp and Wheeler.

It will be remembered that C. E. Potter, rural mail carrier No. 2 out of Towanda, made complaint against the supervisors of not only Burlington township, but Towanda and North Towanda as well. Last Tuesday the nine supervisors admitted the charge and were let off on payment of costs and the promise that they would relieve the cause of the complaint.

E. W. Wheeler, E. A. Knapp and J. O. Nichols supervisors of Burlington township, admitted that one section of road in their township would not pass muster according to the loose stone law, and established the fact that the other roads were free from obstructions.

It was shown that the three supervisors had entered into an agreement whereby the township was divided into three districts, each supervisor becoming responsible for the condition of the roads in his respective district. Two of them obeyed the law, while the other did not, it is claimed, and the question for the justice to decide was whether the three supervisors were subject to fine and costs, or whether just J. O. Nichols, the one in whose district the loose stones are complained of was responsible.

'Squire Meredith decided that all three are responsible and that they must their share of the fine and costs.

Benjamin Kuykendall, Jr. was attorney for the supervisors, while I. McPherson, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth.

ENTERTAINED AT TROY.

Twenty-Ninth Regiment Marches Through Bradford County.

The Twenty-ninth Regiment of United States Infantry arrived in Troy Thursday morning about 10:30 from Gillett, where they camped Wednesday night. They pitched their camp on the ball grounds in Alparon Park. Notwithstanding the rain, many people visited the camp during the day. The continual rain prohibited the exhibition drill which had been expected, and the only demonstraton was a concert in the evening given by the Regimental Band on the Troy House balcony.

Later in the evening the Troy Industrial Association entertained the officers of the regiment at a dinner served in the Troy House. Vice-President H. C. Carpenter, of the Association, presided as toast master and about forty Troy men were in attendance.

The young ladies entertained the young men including some of the regimental officers at a dance in Mitchell's Hall Thursday evening. The hall had been prettily decorated with college flags and banners, laurel, daisies, etc. Charles X. O'Brien, of Elmira, furnished the music. The Twenty-ninth Regiment Band played one number and several of the young officers attended.

More Scranton Scandal

Scranton is hovering beneath another scandal that is threatening to break upon the city with whirwind of sensations. District Attorney O'Brien has secured a court order for the impounding of the ballot boxes in the Minooka and Third ward of Taylor districts, pending a thorough investigation of the primary election. It is further reported that 123 of the specimen ballots found in the ballot box of the Southwest district were printed by a Scranton printer two days after the election.

Patrick J. Costello Pensioned.

Says the Wilkes-Barre Record Patrick Costello, father of Mrs. George J. Stegmaier, enjoys the distinction of being the oldest engineer in point of service on the Lehigh Valley R. R. and the first person to be pensioned by that company. Some time ago Mr. Costello was notified by superintendent Moon that he had been retired in accordance with his wishes and as a recognition of his faithful and long service he was granted a sum that will be ample in providing for his comfort during his remaining days." Mr. Costello is well known in Towanda, having been a resident of this place for several years, while engineer on the Towanda yard locomotive. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his good fortune, and hope that he will live many years to enjoy the fruits of his long and faithful service for the Lehigh.

THE FIFTY-SIXTH ANNUAL BANQUET

Franklin Steam Fire Engine Company Had Nice Time.

The 56th annual banquet of the Franklin Steam Fire Engine company No. 1, the oldest company in the Towanda department, was held Thurs. evening at the Tidd House, and it proved a very enjoyable occasion.

The motto of the Franklins is "Always on Time and Ready For Action," be it a fire, or a banquet, and the members of the company lived up to their motto in the fullest sense last evening.

The dining rooms at the Tidd House were handsomely decorated, and to say that they were very attractive is but expressing it lightly. The menu was excellent, and consisted of celery, olives, radishes, chicken boullion, new potatoes, Parker House rolls, roast chicken, French peas and mushrooms with cream in timbles, Saratoga chips, sugar cured ham, gelatine, shrimp salad, saltine wafers, ice cream, chocolate cake and coffee, all prepared and served in that fine style so well known to the patrons of the Tidd House.

During the serving of the courses, Walker's orchestra discoursed sweet music which added charm to the occasion. At the conclusion of the feast, John E. Graham presiding as toastmaster introduced speakers and assigned subjects as follows:

City of Promise, G. Ernest Frost chief burgess; Department Needs, C. Myer Fairchild, chief engineer Towanda fire department; Friendship, H. L. Holcombe, President Naiad Company No. 2; Volunteers, R. A. Mercur, president Lin-ta No. 3; The Franklins, William Seigel president of No. 1; Loyalty, H. N. White, president Mantua No. 4; The Press, U. G. Baker, editor Daily Review; Firemen, E. L. Smith, manager Towanda Electric Illuminating company; Youngest Volunteer, Charles H. Allen, oldest active fireman in Towanda; Business, M. M. Spalding, president Business Men's Association; Department History, J. Geiger, oldest fireman. Borough finances George H. Cox President of Town Council.

The addresses were very good and each speaker was heartily applauded.

Guests of Honor.

Among the guests of honor at the banquet were a large number of young ladies who comprised the Ladies Auxiliary to the Franklins on the occasion of their anniversary exposition in Eagle hall April 11—16. Following are the names of the ladies in attendance, and who shared in the pleasures of the evening:

Miss Lucy Kennedy, Chairman Miss Agnes Sullivan, Miss Fanny Howland, Miss Agnes Kinney, Miss Jennie Shay, Mrs. George T. Smeaton, Miss Mima Loomis, Miss Agnes Welch, Miss Mary Sullivan, Miss Josephine Costello, Miss Maude McGill, Miss Hazel Loomis, Miss Agnes Sullivan, Miss Pearl Platt, Miss Elizabeth Loomis, Miss Anna Gibson, Miss Dasie M. Fellbush, Miss Josephine Stapleton, Miss Blanche Stalford, Miss Katherine McDonald, Miss Charlotte Strange, Miss Nellie Kinney, Miss Lena Shay, Miss Pearl Seaman, Miss Clara Strange, Miss Emma Hurley, Miss Elizabeth Shay, Miss Anna Coleman, Miss Katherine Strange, Miss Nellie Schuman, Miss Florence Bixby, Miss Lucy Stedge, Miss Genevieve Boland, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Jennie English, Miss Anna Fellbush, Miss Mary Stapleton.

Souvenir Menu Cards.

Handsome menu cards were used, and they will long be preserved by those in attendance at the banquet. On the inside of the cover, was a fine picture of the Franklin drill squad, the famous prize winners, while on the opposite cover was a nice picture giving a glimpse of the interior of Eagle hall during the Franklin Anniversary Expo April 11—16.

On the back cover appeared the names of the present officers of the Franklins, together with the names of the men who were officers in 1854 when the company was first organized. Following are those latter names: Foreman, Robert Gogart, Assistant Foreman, James P. Kinsman; Financial Secretary, J. V. Geiger; Secretary, J. De La Montanye; Treasurer, E. O. Goodrich; Pipeman, Charles McClutcheon.

To Whom Credit is Due.

The credit for the successful anniversary exposition in April, and the very enjoyable as well as successful banquet last evening is due to the untiring efforts of the following members of the Franklins who composed the committee of arrangements for both events: T. J. Ryan, A. S. Barrett, E. M. Badger, F. P. Welch, and William Seigel. The late William Nagle was also a member of this committee, and gave much time and thought to the anniversary exposition.

His taking away by death, which is remembered and regretted by all members of the fire department as well as the people of Towanda, in general, was the only shadow across Thursday evening's gathering of the Franklins.

Children's Day Exercises.

BELIEVES BODY WAS THAT OF ED. KENNEDY OF TIOGA.

Chief Miller Unravels the Dushore Mystery.

Chief Miller has unraveled the mystery surrounding the finding of the badly decomposed body of a man in an abandoned house near Dushore Saturday afternoon. He is satisfied that the remains were those of Edward Kennedy near Wellsboro, Tioga county, who was in the Towanda lockup on April 19.

Kennedy was arrested in Towanda, and confined in the lockup. He complained of having been robbed, but this claim was not substantiated although Chief Miller learned that he had considerable money when he arrived in Towanda from the lumber woods. He was suffering with a lame ankle, and after leaving Towanda went to Lopez. A small cane which he purchased while in Towanda, was found near the body discovered in the old house at Dushore. A pair of shoes which Kennedy purchased in Towanda, were on the feet of the dead man found at Dushore, so while the body was so badly decomposed as to be unrecognizable, there is but little doubt in Chief Miller's mind but what it was Kennedy who came to his death alone in an old house.

The description of Kennedy tallies with that of the man who limped away from Lopez about two months ago, and who was not seen again. The description in general also corresponds with that of the body found in the old house near Dushore.

Chief Miller has communicated with the Sullivan county authorities, and it is expected that the identity of the dead man will be fully established.

China Shower.

The many friends of Miss Rose Carroll of New Albany, delightfully surprised her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ruddy Tuesday evening, June 14th with a china shower. Valuable Colt Fatally Injured.

Joseph Bowman of Liberty Corners, Friday morning found a valuable two years old colt dead in a field on his farm. The colt had been in a pasture field, and some time during Wednesday night it made its way through a fence, sustaining injuries which caused its death. The fence showed where the colt had been entangled, and a trail of blood led across the field to where the body was found.

HOW LEHIGH EXPERTS HAVE FOUND GROWING CROPS

Agriculturalist Stevens Says Things Are Coming All Right.

Following the long spell of rainy weather, F. R. Stevens, the agriculturalist of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, has made the following report of the condition of farms crops along that line:

"Conditions of crops in localities traversed by the Lehigh Valley Railroad continue practically the same as in my last report, in spite of excessive rains and cold weather.

"Some additional harm has been done to berries by lake frosts. Crops have not been harmed by these frosts as much as in other localities of the state.

"Corn and oats need sunshine and heat soon in order to produce a full crop.

"Grass is coming well. Excessive rains are interfering with the first cutting of alfalfa.

"Insects pests are not extraordinarily numerous, but the weather is unusually favorable for fungus growths.

"Winter grains look exceptionally well."

Telephone Review.

For the education and uplifting of its employees, the New York Telephone Company, has begun the publication of a monthly magazine to be known as "The Telephone Deview. The magazine will be circulated among the employes of the company only, and no subscription is attached to same. The magazine will not seek advertising patronage and no paid advertisements will be carried. The contents will deal entirely with matter pertaining to the company's operation and to the art and practice of telephony as they effect the company and its employes.

Too Simple.

The King road drag, the best possible worker of dirt country roads, to be used immediately after rain, is too cheap and simple to ever be very popular. An advocate of its use says: "It ought to have four flywheels, fifty or sixty cogs and a few hundred coil springs attached, and then, if it was $285 f. o. b. Chicago, it might come into general use. As it is, it is too darned simple ever to be appreciated. Nobody wants a road drag, however effective, that costs only a few boards off the back fence, a holt or two from the windmill and a fistful of skinned knuckles."

School Statistics.

The equipment of the new Charleston Township High School, which has just completed its first year, cost approximately $17,000. There is a diversity of opinion, of course, as to the general practicability of the scheme for rural districts, and yet the majority believe that the directors have done wisely and well. It cost $2,265 to transport, in wagons especially constructed for their use, the pupils of the sixteen closed schools to the central school during the year.

Reform on in Hazleton.

At Hazleton the reform movement is in action, and slot machines and all petty gambling devices have been tabooed and an edict has been issued against the use of such money-catchers within the limits of the city. The chief of police has issued a notice warning all offenders of the city ordinance against further violation. The Mayor and other city officials have also promised their support to the chief of police in order to break up the practice.

Boy's Sad Fate.

Henry Rocco, a 16-year-old boy drowned in the Cayuga inlet when he jumped in after a fish. With his 4-year-old brother he was fishing. Not getting a bite he became excited when he saw a fish in the clear water nearby. He jumped after it, was caught in the mud and drowned.

Ferry Boat Swept Away.

A river ferry accident much like that which occurred at Ransom some weeks ago happened Tuesday at Sayre. The rope holding the ferry running between the bank of the river and Harris Island broke while a heavy load was being ferried across. On board were two teams of horses, two heavy wagons and three men. The heavy strain on the rope caused it to break and the boat, with its heavy load, swept down stream. One of the men swam ashore and secured a row boat. Another unhooked the horses from the wagons. The boat began to sink and the water came up to the wagon boxes. Near the foot of the island the boat struck a rock and threw the horses from their feet. With horse sense, the animals then took to the water and swam safely to another small island. The lightened craft, with two men aboard, floated down stream about a mile and finally sank to the bottom near the shore. The marooned horses were found on the island contentedly browsing.

Pope Issues New Order.

The latest reform document of Pope Pius X., as interpreted in The Ecclesiastical Review, the official organ of the clergy in this country, will do away with the practice of collecting a fee at church doors at services, which has prevailed in the Catholic churches in the larger cities. "This custom has been condemned from time to time by the laity of America, but has not been abolished because it was realized that in many parishes there were persons who shirked their part of the responsibility for the support of their churches. In his latest document the Pope says the admission collection savors too much of the demanding money at a place of amusement and that it is not becoming for the church.

Sunday School Convention.

A convention of the Sunday schools of Athens and Sayre boroughs and Athens township will be held in the Church of Christ, West Sayre, Friday afternoon and evening, July 1. Each school in the township and boroughs included is invited to send five elected delegates. The program will include local, county and state workers.

Gives Life Blood.

A critical operation was performed by Drs. Sureth and Peck, by which more than a pint of blood was transfused from the arm of David Rosser, of Scranton, into the veins of his brother-in-law, Charles W. Dawson. Dawson has been suffering from anaemia and there is slight hope for his recovery.

Marvelous Discoveries

mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill me, and that wonder of wonders, Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly, its the surest cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C., R. R. No. 4, writes it cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c and $1. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Dr. H. C. Porter & Son.

LEHIGH TRAINS TO BE EQUIPPED WITH TELEPHONES.

Experiments Satisfy General Manager McGuire—Good for Autos.

All trains on the Lehigh Valley railroad are to be equipped with a new telephone apparatus by means of which immediate communication can be established with trains at any point on the road. This announcement is the result of the successful outcome of the final experiments just concluded with the car of General Manager McGuire.

The new device consists of an extension pole similar to a trolley pole, which can be hooked over the telephone wires running parallel to the track. In this way train crews will be able to communicate with train dispatchers from any point on the road. On the other hand, to reach any person on a train the operator at the nearest station will be informed, the train stopped and the telephone connected by means of the extension pole. The plan will also be useful in the apprehension of criminals.

The new apparatus is exepcted to be particularly effective in the handling of freight trains. Owing to the large tonnage now hauled, the breaking or pulling out of drawheads is not an uncommon occurrence, and causes delays not only to the disabled train but to other trains following. With the new telephone system train dispatchers will be immediately informed as to where a breakdown has occurred and can at once make arrangements to run following trains around with little or no delay until the damage is repaired.

Good For Autos.

If this new telephone arrangement works successfully in railroad work, there is no reason why it should not be just as successful with automobilists. For istance a car would break down in the Ulster narrows. All that the driver would have to do would be to hook on to a telephone wire with his apparatus and phone to Manville or the James garage at Towanda, and relief would be at hand in a few minutes.

RUNAWAY HORSE RESPONDS TO KINDLY SPOKEN WORD.

"Whoa, Flora," Stops Badly Frightened Animal—Troy News.

The following interesting items are gleaned from the current issue of the enterprising and newsy Troy Gazette-Register:

"Whoa, Flora."

"Whoa, Flora," quietly but decisively spoken, on Monday of this week stopped a runaway horse about to dash upon the track in front of a south bound train at the Alparon farm crossing, just north of this boro. In the carriage were Rev. and Mrs. James Coots of Berrytown. They had combined their strength on the reins over the best part of a mile, and noting the aproach of the train were about to resign themselves to possible death when at the word, once spoken, their horse stopped, still quivering with fright, but under perfect control within a few rods of the crossing.

Samuel Williams of Troy, township, has an automobile, the first in this immediate locality owned by a man whose sole business is farming. In this connection it is worth while to recall that Mr. Williams was one of the first hereabouts to make a success of alfalfa. In Kansas the farmers have been big buyers of benzine buggies since they got in the alfalfa game. Let up hope it will be the same here, at least that the ability to buy will be theirs.

The contract is soon to be awarded by Sullivan ,Supervisors for a new 28-foot span steel bridge on the site of the Job bridge one mile east of Chandlersburg on the road to Austinville.

During the stop in Troy of the 29th Regiment, John Howland sold his sadle mare "Lila" to one of the Captains for $175.

We quote from an auction bill on our office wall printed in Ireland, for a sale to be held in County Cavan, July 2, of this year: "This farm is in a high state of cultivation, being all thoroughly drained within the last 10 years and every field being manured. The hay is noted for its good quality, and there is a magnicent crop every year, on an average five tons to the acre, think of it, on land that without a doubt has been in cultivation 200 years and we of Western Bradford talking about our land being worn out after less than 50 years. Nonsense. We simply need better drainage and to farm better generally and we too can cut from three to five tons to the acre.

TOWANDA MINISTER STIRS WILKES-BARRE

Rev. William Phillips Pointed Out Evils of City.

At Wednesday evening's session of the Pennsylvania Universalist convention which is being held in the Universalist Church on South Main street in Wilkes-Barre William Phillips of Towanda delivered a forcible address in which he pointed out the evils of Wilkes-Barre.

Rev. Mr. Phillips' subject was "The Place of the Universalist Church in Wilkes-Barre in its Reforms." Among other things he said: "Last Sunday the churches of Wilkes-Barre prayed 'Thy kingdom come, thy will be done as it is in heaven.' On Monday hundreds of unemployed men walked the streets. Many spent their time in the streets. Many spent their time in the saloons of the city; women trembled in their hovels in fear of these same men who are called husbands but who spent their time in grog shops while their wives bend over the wash tubs of the wealthy who live in the breathing spots of the city. Such is the situation, I take it.

"Notwithstanding the fine schools churches, palatial residences, Wilkes-Barre is no Utopia or no Garden of Eden. This means there is work for other churches. How can the conditions be improved? No Carrie Nation system will do. The evils of Wilkes-Barre and other cities are of long growth and duration and they must be destroyed gradually. If the people close the saloons the liquor traffic question will not be solved,, but it will be one stepping stone toward driving out one of the worst evils in the land."

Interesting and impressive addresses were also given by Rev. E. C. Sweetser, D. D., of Philadelphia and Rev. W. G. Price of Bradford.

The sessions Wednesday morning and afternoon were devoted to prayer services, addresses on interesting topics pertaining to the growth of the Universalist churches in Pennsylvania and hearing the reports of the officers of the organization.

Superintendent's Report.

Rev. James Vincent, D. D., of Girard the State superintendent, submitted the following report: "There are no less than ten churches in the State which are without ministers at the present time, namely, Conneautville, Pittsburg, Sharpsville, Smithton, Springfield, Tidioute, Titusville, Troy, Westfield and Wellsburg. The resignation of Rev. G. A. Sahlin leaves the important mission at Pittsburg without a pastor, and it cannot be said that the outlook there is any too bright for the future. The convention has already put a large amount of money into the project without any conspicuous result. Athens parish has added to the value of its property by building a new parish house.

"Rev. T. B. Payne reports holding services as often as possible at Carbondale. The event of greatest importance in the history of the year's work was the erection of a beautiful church in Wilkes-Barre, in which we are now assembled. This is due to the faithful and enterprising labors of the pastor. Rev. Thomas B. Payne, and his people, and to the generosity of Mrs. Frances A. Hackley, who gave so largely to the building fund of our church at Scranton.

"The following parishes have received financial aid from the convention during the year: Athens, All Souls Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Scranton. The latter parish is now self-supporting. Wilkes-Barre reports a gift of $500 from James D. Green of Wyoming. The improvements at Athens were made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Sarah J. Morley, who left $1,600 to that church.

The State superintendency fund now amounts to $4,595.75. The board of trustees earthly recommends this fund to the generous consideration of our people and hopes that each year will bring substantial additions towards the completion of this important endowment."

Secretary's Report.

Secretary J. Lonsdale Dowson submitted the following report to the delegates of the convention: "The commission on the increase of the trustees of the general convention to cooperate with the commission in the important work of securing candidates for our ministry. A place has been given on the program of this year's convention for the discussion of this subject by Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., of Washington, D. C. In view of the fact that there are so many vacant pulpits in the State, it behooves us as ministers and people to give careful and prayful attention to this matter. The ranks must be kept supplied if the work is to continue, and special efforts should be made to induce our young people to give themselves to the blessed work of preaching the gospel."

S'prised the Squire.

On Wednesday night twenty-six members of the Rebekah lodge of this place paid Justice and Mrs. O. C. Cranmer a surprise visit. A most enjoyable evening was spent. Fruits were served, and at midnight the feminine Odd Fellows took their departure.—New Albany Mirror.

Lightning Kills Cows.

Lightning struck a silo on the farm occupied by Seeley Bovier at West Franklin Friday night, killing two valuable cows. The silo was considerably damaged, but fortunately it did not take fire.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by E. P. Kester, Pharmacist.

UNIVERSALISTS ELECT NEW STATE OFFICERS.

T. J. Chase of Wilkes-Barre is President—Mrs. Long Honored.

The annual state convention of the Universalist churches which was held the past three days in the Parker Memorial church in Wilkes-Barre closed Thursday evening when officers to serve for the ensuing year were elected. The officers elected were: President, T. J. Chase, Wilkes-Barre; vice-president, Rev. E. C. Sweetser, D. D., Philadelphia; treasurer, C. W. Gabell, Jr., Philadelphia; secretary, Rev. J. L. Dowson, Philadelphia.

The Women's Universalist Society also elected officers last evening. They were President, Mrs. John Clarence Lee, Philadelphia; vice-president, Mrs. Theresa Patterson; secretary, Mrs. S. B. Gregory, Philadelphia, treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Long, Towanda.

The Young People's Christian Union held its meetings Thursday afternoon and evening. The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. T. J. Chase of Wilkes-Barre. Wade H. Barnes of Brooklyn responded on behalf of the delegates. The reports of the officers were then heard, after which followed interesting discussions of methods and special features of the Union work.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Wade H. Barnes, Brooklyn; vice-president, Frank Price Sharpsville; secretary, Miss Mary McCrume, Jamestown; treasurer, John O. Gakler, Philadelphia.

TROUBLE ON BERNICE BRANCH AND ALSO ON S. & N. Y.

Washouts Cause Delay in Traffic on Both Roads.

Washouts caused a delay in traffic on both the Bernice Branch of the Lehigh and the S. & N. Y. yesterday.

A section of the Bernice Branch tracks between Satterfield and Bernice held up the morning passenger train from Towanda until about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In spite of this great delay, the train completed the trip after the track had been repaired.

At Weston on the S. & N. Y., the high water in the creek washed the filling from under the abutment, allowing one end of the bridge to sag to such an extent that it was unsafe for traffic. The freight trains were annulled for the day, while the passengers were transferred at the bridge with but slight delay.

Repairs have been completed and traffic will be resumed in full on both lines today.

This Cannot Be True.

A correspondent writing to one of the city papers from this section says: "There are symptoms that the Seven County Volunteer Firemen's Association, if not deceased, is in a critical condition. It was Athens 'turn this year to entertain, but the modern Greeks didn't seem to feel inclined that way. There was some talk of Blossburg acting as host, but that has not materialized. As the meeting is usually held in July or August of each year, and no place is as yet fixed upon, it would seem that the chances for the association passing on are excellent. Since Steuben county, N. Y., was admitted, no town there has entertained the firemen." This cannot be true. In fact it has been stated by a number of Athens citizens that the convention would be held in that place, and possible the week of the Inter-State fair.

The First Window Display.

To A. C. Blackwell, the grocer, is due the credit of arranging the first window display recalling olden days. In the window can be seen army relics and souvenirs loaned by J. Andrew Wilt, Esq., together with many other articles of historic interest. One of the most interesting things in the window is a copy of The Settler, the first newspaper published in Bradford county. It is dated 1822, and was published by George Scott. The paper was loaned to Mr. Blackwell by the family of the late Lawrence Scott. Mr. Blackwell has set a good example, one which should be followed by the other merchants.

Fantastic Parade Will Be Great.

John E. Graham, master of ceremonies, official announcer and grand marshall of outdoor events on old home days states that the fantastic parade which he is engineering will be the largest and best thing of the kind ever seen in this section. Already a large number of the business men and others have agreed to have floats in the parade, all of which will insure the success of the undertaking. This parade alone will be worth coming miles to see

LEHIGH VALLEY AGENTS ARE TO BE TRAINED.

General Passenger Agent Lee Will Put Agents on New Basis.

Charles S. Lee, general Passenger Agent of the Lehigh Valley, proposes to put the instruction of his ticket agents on a basis where he will more accurately estimate the value of the results obtained than ever before. He has instructed each of the district passenger agents to hold meeting for the catechising of the agents each month. On the Lehigh Valley as on most railroads, there are many men at the smaller stations whose duties require them to look after not only the passenger business, but also the freight, the telegraphing, and the checking of baggage; and to be a general information bureau as well. As the stations are small these men cannot be paid very large salaries and in consequence they are not always so full of ambition to build up business as might be desired. A school should not only produce a better class of men to select from for higher positions, but also to encourage them to feel that the company is taking an interest in them. Then some of them will be sufficiently interested to study conditions themselves with improvement of themselves as well as incrasing the business of the company.

The district passenger agent who is supposed to be thoroughly posted, will ask each man all sorts of questions; as for example: How many miles does the Lehigh Valley system comprise? Through what states does it run? What are the principal towns along its lines? Is it double tracked all the way or only part of the way? Is it electrically blocked or what system is used? What are the principal trains? If a man wishes to go from your station to———, what train would be best for him to take to reach his destination promptly? Over what line does the Lehigh run through cars west of Suspension Bridge and south of Bethlehem? If a man going to Boston what would be the best way for him to go from your station and at what station in Boston would he arrive at, if he took your recommendation. How is checked baggage taken through Geneva for a passenger going to a local point on the New York central.

This scheme is to be warmly commended. Not only will it mean better service to the public in every way; it will be beneficial in getting the men together so they can meet each other personally.

ULSTER WILL CELEBRATE.

Plans Made For a Big Time on the "Ever Glorious Fourth."

The Athletic association of Ulster will hold a big celebration at that place on July 4, and they are going to make it the biggest affair of its kind to be held in this section. They are sparing no expense to secure the best of attractions and all the business in the town are interested and assisting to make it the biggest day the old town has ever seen.

There will be two baseball games, one at 9 a. m. and the other at 3 p. m. A fantastic parade that is expected to eclipse anything of its kind ever held in this section. An old fashioned dance with dancing for everybody. A two mile Marathon race and 100 and 220 yard dash and running broad jump; special fire works will be displayed and a good band will be on hand all day to lead the parade, furnish music at the games and to give an evening concert during the display of fire works.

There will be something doing every minute in Ulster on July 4th and every one will be given their moneys worth and then some. All entries for the races should be sent to F. M. Davidson, Ulster, Pa.

Boy Escaped Injury.

A small boy living near the Dayton Milling company plant was run down Monday morning by a horse and buggy but fortunately was not seriously injured. He was playing in the street and evidently did not see the approaching horse for he did not attempt to get out of the way. The horse was being driven at a lively clip and when the little fellow ran in front of the horse it jumped to one side but not far enough for the buggy to miss the lad. The hub of the wheel struck the boy near the shoulder and knocked him sprawling in the dirt. He was picked up by some of his playmates and taken into a nearby house where he was washed and his clothes brushed. Had the little fellow fell under the wheels there is no doubt but what he would have been seriously injured.

Towanda Business Change.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Goodenough of Barclay, have purchased and taken possession of the grocery store in the Arcade block which has been owned and managed by Thomas Kirwan for the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Goodenough are experienced in the grocery business, having conducted a successful store at Barclay for several years, and they will give their best attention to the trade established by Mr. Kirwan, and endeavor to add new customers to the already large list. They will move their stock of goods from Barclay in the near future, or as soon as a postmaster is appointed to succeed Mrs. Goodenough, who has officiated in that capacity at Barclay for several years.

Ralston Man Suicides.

Walter Shaffer, aged twenty-six years, who had been a sufferer from epilepsy for some time, died at Ralston Tuesday morning from the effects of a dose of laudanum. Whether the fatal dose was taken by accident or with suicidal intent is not known, but as the unfortunate young man is said to have threatened to take his life, the supposition is that it was a case of suicide. Coroner Hardt was notified, but did not hold an inquest.

Change of Teachers at Ulster.

Mrs. Howard Litzelman resigned her position in the faculty of the Ulster High school Monday afternoon, and Miss Lisle Leonard was immediately elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Litzelman has been a member of the faculty for a number of years and has given the best of satisfaction. Miss Leonard is an excellent teacher, and no doubt will serve acceptably to all concerned.

AGED TOWANDA LADY SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Horse Became Frightened and Runaway Resulted.

Mrs. Hugh McCabe and Mrs. Barbara Johnson both of this place, had an exciting experience Monday morning when the horse which they were driving became frightened at a traction engine and the buggy was overturned, throwing both ladies out. Mrs. Johnson sustained a serious fracture of the hip and yesterday afternoon she was taken to the Packer hospital at Sayre for treatment.

Mrs. Johnson had been desirous of visiting friends in South Towanda and Mrs. McCabe consented to drive her to that place. Mrs. McCabe was driving the horse which was hitched to an open buggy. They were coming up Barclay street toward Main and just as they came around the turn near the Humphrey Manufacturing company's machine shop they met a traction engine coming down the hill. The horse is gentle and quiet but the unexpected meeting was too much for the animal and it made a plunge to the side of the road. As the wheels struck the deep ditch at the side of the road the buggy overturned throwing Mrs. McCabe and Mrs. Johnson out onto the sidewalk. Mrs. Johnson received a fracture of the hip and was bruised considerably while Mrs. McCabe escaped with slight bruises.

The horse tore loose from the buggy and started up the street but it was stopped before it had gone very far. A part of the harness was broken and the buggy was slightly damaged.

Mrs. Johnson resides on Second street and is past seventy years of age. She is not very strong and it is feared that her recovery will be slow. Dr. Means attended her following the accident and accompanied her to the hospital.

SCRANTON BOY DROWNED IN PECULIAR MANNER.

Suction Pulled Him Under Water and Snuffed Out His Life.

Leslie Evans, aged 8 years, of Scranton, while at play Wednesday afternoon at the water shaft of the Hampton mine was drawn into the water by the suction of the overflow pipe and pinned underneath the surface where he was drowned before aid could reach him. When brought to the surface there was a faint indication of heart beats but he expired within a few seconds.

According to the story told by two companions of the boy who accompanied him on the fatal trip, he discovered a long pole when they reached the dam formed by the shaft and started to walk along the wall to sound its depth. The pole which dragged in the water was caught in the current of the overflow pipe and sudden jar threw Evans from the wall into the water where the suction pinned him against the pipe as stated.

The cries of his companions brought aid and by means of a large iron pipe the body was dislodged and brought to the surface with life still evident. A line man who had been at work on a telephone wire nearby cut in and telephoned for a doctor who quickly arrived but was unable to save the boy.

Cloudburst at Bernice.

Extensive property loss was suffered by residents and the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co., between Bernice and Satterfield last Thursday night by a cloudburst. The water came down in such quantities that streets were flooded, fences torn down and the tracks of the company were washed away for a considerable distance. The company found it necessary to send wreck crews from Coxton and Towanda to repair the roadbed and replace the tracks which were washed away. Had a train been passing through the affected section of the country at the time the cloudburst occurred, a wreck similar to the one which happened a few weeks ago in that section would undoubtedly have been experienced.

More Than Likely.

Says the Williamsport Sun: "If the action taken by Charles E. Potter, a rural mail carrier of Bradford county, is followed by other rural carriers in Pennsylvania there is certain to be trouble a-plenty for township road supervisors and a probable transforming of some bad roads into good ones. The Bradford county man has caused the arrest of a number of supervisors, alleging that they have not obeyed the law which requires that all loose stones be removed from the highways. It is not improbable that loose stones might be found on some Lycoming county roads."

Rose Fair at Syracuse.

Rev. E. M. Mills, D. D., superintendent of the Syracuse district of the M. E. church will conduct a rose fair in Syracuse next week. It will be remembered that Dr. Mills originated the rose fair in Towanda, the first one being held last June whil he was pastor of the First M. E. church, and next week while he is giving Syracuse its first rose fair, the second one will be held in Towanda, it being an annual event in the M. E. church.

Wellsboro Improvements.

Following the paving of the Wellsboro main street and the boulevarding of it, it has been necessary to re-lay and lower all of the sidewalks in front of the business places. The business men signed a petition to have the work done by the burgess and Council, and it is now under way. Five thousand dollars, a tidy sum ,it is estimated, will be spent in Wellsboro this Summer for concrete walks alone. It will be a smart town when things are ship-shape.

TOWANDA BOY STRANGELY MISSING

Eleven Years Old Jesse Lenox Has Disappeared

Jesse Lenox, the eleven years old son of William Lenox of Main street, Towanda, is strangely missing.

The last seen of the boy he was crossing the Towanda wagon bridge. This was about 6 o'clock on Monday evening of this week. Since that time, the family have heard nothing of him, and diligent search has not revealed any further trace of the lad.

When last seen, the boy was bareheaded, barefooted, wore blouse waist and brown knee pants.

The family lives on Main street across from the glass factory and would be glad to receive any information concerning the missing boy.

High Priced Chewing Gum.

Says the New Albany Mirror: "Miss Josephine Dempsey chews the highest priced gum of any young lady in this part of the the country. Last Saturday while passing the gum machine at C. J. Sumner's, she hankered for a cud of the succulent "Zeno" and put what she supposed was a common, ordinary red cent in the slot. Later she missed a $2.50 gold piece from her wallet (or whatever it is a woman carries her money in). On Monday she made a systematic search for the missing coin, and finally went to the gum machine, and after those having it in charge opened up the treasury of the contrivance, there lay the gold among its base companions, safe and secure. Josephine has sworn by all the most approved swear words in the feminine vocabulary, such as "My goodness", "Land o'Goshen" "Gosh all Friday" etc., that she will never again try to bribe a gum machine."

A Healthy Institution.

That the Grange National Bank of Laceyville is steadily forging ahead, is shown by the increase of the deposits, made by its growing list of patrons. This amount has already reached $130,000, which is not near the maximum, to get all within its territory to patronize it—as they will when they can transfer their accounts from other banks—those with which they did business, prior to the starting of this. A handsome surplus is being laid aside, and the showing of the business now done by our local institution, is highly pleasing to all—the cashier, president and directors.—Messenger.

Remarkable Hail Storm.

Mrs. Alexander C. Jackson of Berwick, in a letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Kirby, states that last Saturday a terrible hail storm visited Berwick and vicinity. Hailstones as large as eggs fell in large numbers, badly frightening the people as well as doing much damage. Roofs were shattered, glass was broken, and thousands of dollars damage was done. The hail punctured carriage and automobile tops, and where the icy lumps struck the earth, they sank in deep. It was the most remarkable, as well as the most severe storm to ever visit Berwick.

New Bridge at Stull.

The contract for building the bridge across Bowmans Creek at Stull was let by the county commisioners to the York Bridge Co., whose bid was the lowest for the structure complete, it being $630 for the abutments and $1090 for the superstructure, making a total of $1720 for the job. Several bids were put in ranging all the way up to $2150.

BASE BALL

LAQUIN DEFEATED TOWANDA IN AN EXCITING GAME.

Lumber Towners Took Locals Measure 6-5—Good Game.

The Towanda baseball team was defeated at Laquin on Saturday by a score of 6—5. Laquin is credited with having the fastest team that ever represented the lumber town and the performance of Saturday indicates that the claim has merit.

But let it be understood that they had no walkaway with the City of Promise aggregation, as the verdict indicates, instead they had to go as they never did before to get away with the game.

Rockwell did the pitching for Laquin, while "Jimmie" Russell, an old time catcher, who performed brilliantly in Towanda a few years ago, was behind the slab, and his work is as good if not a little better than when he was playing ball for a livlihood.

Kisner started in to pitch for Towanda, and after the third inning retired in favor of Cotter. Both twirlers performed well, and kept the contest at an uncertain angle all the while. Elmer McCracken was behind the bat, and his catching for both Cotter and Kisner was gilt edge. The supporting cast was composed of Hines, Byrne, Corbett, Blowers, H. Smith, and Parsons. No fault can be found with the work of any of the locals, and on Thursday of this week, the first old home day they will endeavor to show the Laquin boys that they cannot win every game. This game will take place on the East side grounds and will be one of the big outdoor attractions.

Rain prevented the glass cutter and silk mill ball game on the East side grounds Saturday afternoon; also the Printer—Powell game at Powell.

Troy Will Have Good Team.

Troy will have a good baseball team again this year. W. E. Palmer, with John E. Dobbins and H. C. Carpenter has leased the Taylor lot in Elmira street for a baseball park. The work of grading has already begun. Fences, bleachers and a grand stand will also be erected. The management hope to have the grounds ready for use by July 4 and offer a season ticket to the person who suggests the best name for the new park. Aside from Linderman, Sherman, W. Parsons and Hathaway, of Troy the members of the team have not yet been selected.

WANTS TO LOCATE NEW FACTORY IN TOWANDA.

Henry Whonroy Looking For Suitable Building.

Henry Whonroy, a practical woodcarver of many years experience, is looking for a suitable building in Towanda in which to locate a manufacturing establishment. Mr. Whonroy was for a number of years employed in the Frost factory, and is well known in Towanda which he is pleased to call his home town, his wife being a native of this place.

Mr. Whonroy has recently purchased a large quantity of wood working machinery which is now arriving in Towanda, and he is very desirous of securing a building in which to locate and carry on the business in which he proposes to engage.

Furniture and other manufacturing establishments use a large amount of carved and turned work which they buy ready made. It is to supply the demand for such goods that Mr. Whonroy desires to engage in business in Towanda. He has had wide experience in this line of work, and as he has the machinery and everything to start business with, it will certainly be a shame if he is compelled to seek a location elsewhere. He has had options on some vacant buildings, but as they are not adapted to the work which he will carry on, it is more than likely that he will not take up the options.

It seems that there should be some way for Mr. Whonroy to locate here in the lumber district, where he can make a success of the venture if such a thing is possible. It would be discouraging indeed, if Mr. Whonroy failed in finding a location after buying a large quantity of machinery and building such fond hopes upon Towanda, the town of his choice.

Knights Had Good Time.

A largely attended session of Towanda Council, No. 1407, Knights of Columbus was held in their hall Tuesday evening. The session was conducted by the lecturer, John Williams. Interesting remarks were made by Grand Knight W. H. Kane, John Williams, Joseph McMahon and Arthur Carroll. The most interesting feature of the evening was a lively game of cards between Captains Edward Whalen and John L. McMahon. Mr. Mahon had the pleasure of announcing, "We have met the enemy and they are ours." Mr. Whalen was silent. A luncheon followed consisting of lettuce, sandwiches, coffee and cigars. It was prepared and served by the Knights. All enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Must Not Use Shad Nets.

So many inquiries have come to the State Department of Fisheries from fishermen who want to use their shad and herring nets for catching carp, that Fish Commissioner Meehan has issued a warning to all fishermen not to attempt anything of the sort. He said: "The season for shad and herring runs from March 1 to June 10. The law plainly prohibits the use of herring or shad seines after the end of the season, and all fishermen are warned to store them until next year and keep out of trouble."

SUMMER NORMAL PROVING TO BE VERY SUCCESSFUL.

Eighty Pupils Attending Sessions in the S. C. I. Building.

One of the best attended and most successful Summer schools ever conducted in Towanda or Bradford county is now being conducted in the S. C. I. building by Prof. L. J. Russell and a staff of excellent instructors.

At present there are 80 pupils receiving instructions in the art of teaching, and advanced studies. Assisting Professor Russell, who is a member of the Towanda high school faculty, is his brother, Prof. R. F. Russell, principal of the Lanesboro, Susquehanna county schools, Prof. C. P. Lewis, principal of the Rome graded schools, Miss Bertha Espy, a teacher in the Towanda public schools, and Miss Emma Wells, teacher of music and drawing in the Sayre schools. These teachers are giving their whole attention to the pupils in the Summer normal, and that they are doing good work goes without saying.

This week Prof. H. S. Putnam, county superintendent of schools, will deliver a series of lectures to the Summer normal pupils on school management. These lectures will be very instructive, and it is expected that a large number of teachers in the county will attend the sessions to hear Prof. Putnam's lectures.

Prof. Russell, who is at the head of the Summer normal, has hopes of making it an all the year institution of learning, a training place for teachers, and he is greatly encouraged by the large attendance during the past few weeks.

In days gone by the S. C. I. sheltered many students who afterwards played important parts in the affairs of State and nation. It would be good indeed, if this institution should regain its old time place in educational ranks, for it would mean much to Towanda as well as the young people of the county, who are now compelled to pursue advanced studies or prepare for teaching in distant towns and cities.

RURAL CARRIERS AS WEATHER SIGNALS.

To Extend U. S. Weather Bureau Service is Aim of New Bill.

A news dispatch from Washington says: "To extend the United States weather bureau service to the rural districts by making every rural mail carrier a herald of the official predictions, is the unique 'idea of Representative McHenry, Democrat, Pennsylvania, who has introduced a bill to that effect. Mr. McHenry proposes in his bill to have every vehicle in the rural mail delivery service equipped with flags denoting the weather predictions for the day. The wagons thus in leaving their starting point each day would fly from their tops flags which would indicate to every farmer the weather forecast for the next twenty-four hours." For a long time the rural carriers out of Towanda were provided with weather flags, but the hour for the start being so early, frequently the weather bulletins did not arrive until the carriers had left on their trips, so the practice was discontinued.

If McHenry's bill becomes a law it will be compulsory upon the part of the mail men to carry weather flags.

DEMOCRATS NAME STATE TICKET

Grimm, Price, Blakeslee and Philson the Candidates

The Democrats in State convention at Allentown Wednesday afternoon named the following ticket:

For Governor—Weoster Grimm of Bucks county.

For Lieutenant Governor—Samuel B. Price of Scranton.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs—John I. Blakeslee of Mauch Chunk.

For State Treasurer—Samuel B. Philson of Myersdale.

The Democrats did not allow the refusal of C. LaRue Munson of Williamsport to be a candidate for governor to discourage them, even though his withdrawal upset plans in general. Instead they set about and framed up another ticket which was named.

Samuel B. Price of Scranton, who was named for lieutenant governor, made a statement in which he declared emphatically, once and for all time that he would not accept the nomination, nor would he be a candidate, not even for a minute.

This leaves a bad gap in the ticket, and one which will be hard to fill.

Former Bradford County Teacher.

A Kearny, Neb., newspaper prints the following article concerning a former Bradford county school teacher:

"A large number of young people were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Steigelmeier and Miss Layton at their handsome home in Center township last Wednesda yevening. Most of the party went out from the city and passed the evening in the most agreeable manner, numerous games and most elaborate musical program delighted all who were present. At midnight an almost inexhaustable dinner, as it was altogether too great to be classed as a luncheon, was served to a couple of dozen well matured appetites that know a good thing when they see it and taste it, and when the young people started for home at 2 o'clock in the morning, they were a unit in regarding the splendid hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Stegelmeier and all acclaimed them royal entertainers. Following the pleasant entertainment of Wednesday evening another agreeable affair was held at the Stegelmeier home Saturday afternoon, when 18 pupils of school district No. 36 surprised their teacher, Miss Mildred Layton, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Stegelmeier, and brought with them an elegant present as a token of the high esteem in which they hold their teacher and to show their appreciation of her efforts in their behalf. Everybody reported a general good time. Ice cream and cake were served until they could eat no more. Miss Mildred Layton is a most excellent teacher and her pupils know how to appreciate her good efforts."

LeRaysville School Matters.

Last week the School Board of LeRaysville Boro. met and finished the business of the year ending June 1. After this the old board adjourned sine die and the new members, S. H. Davies, B. L. Taylor and Dr. G. W. Durga, were sworn for the coming year are: S. H. Davies, president; G. E. Billings, secretary; C. H. Hutchinson, treasurer. The rate last year was six mills. The length of the term was not decided but there is little doubt but that the same number of months will be taught.—The LeRaysville Times.

HAPPENINGS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Charles Holigan while leading his bride, Mary Isvet, to the altar was held up by triking miners at Bradenville and forced to join their union before they would permit the wedding to proceed. The strikers followed the pair into the church and there advised the bridegroom to accede to their demands. Upon his refusal they kidnaped him and took him to their headquarters at McChesneytown. Later Holigan returned to his bride and the ceremony was performed. Holigan says he joined the union against his will.

It has just been made public that the jury at Norristown which tried Taylor Lewis, the prison guard, last week for aiding in the escape of a murderer, had a prayer meeting when they entered the jury room to deliberate after hearing the evidence. One of the jurors proposed that, owing to the seriousness of the case, the 12 men should ask for divine guidance. The other 11 jurors acquiesced and the 12th man offered a prayer, asking God to assist the men reaching a just verdict. The jurymen finally agreed up-

"Two slick confidence men worked the card trick game, as old as the hills, on Charles Hess, a wealthy dairyman and farmer, at his home at Macada, a mile or so from South Bethlehem, flimflaming him out of $2,000 and then escaping.

In swindling their victim the man with the gripstick proposed a card game with a pal. The latter held a tin box under his arm, which he said contained $8,000 belonging to a bank. A bet of $5,000 was made and the pal, drawing the right card, won. Then the stranger wagered $10,000 with his pal, but the latter turned to Hess asking him to loan him $2,000 to add to the $8,000 he had to make up the $10,000 to play against the stranger's equal amount, offering to divide his winnings with Hess. "Besides," whispered the pal to Hess, "the fellow is crazy, and he will lose his money anyhow if we don't win it."

With a black snake wrapping itself around his body and with his hands, with which he was holding its head, almost exhausted, John Franks of Johnetta, Armstrong county, was found in road by two young women, Misses Lillie Row and Sarah Jones, who, after they recovered from their fright, rolled to him two large stones with which he killed the reptile. The snake measured seven and one-half feet. Franks was walking along the road at dusk when he saw what he thought was a rope lying in the ditch. He threw a pebble at it and it turned out to be the snake. It wrapped itself around his legs and would have gone higher, probably, if he had not caught its head. It showed its fangs and he kept yelling for help. When the young women threw the stones toward him, he put the snake's head on one and crushed it with the other, killing the reptile. In a half hour he had recovered enough for his rescuers to lead him home.

Representing himself to be an employe of a water company sent to measure pipes in the store and residence of Mrs. Katherine Unterreiner in East Pittsburg a man abcut 30 years old recently gained admission to the place and ransacked it, stealing about $26. The thief had a tape measure and asked the woman to hold it while he went up stairs to measure a pipe. He went up and helped himself. When he was leaving the house he waved his hand to the woman and told her he would be back the next day. The theft was not discovered until an hour after he left.

A horned toad was found along Loyalsock creek by a lad fishing ther. Inquire of Charles Eldon, taxidermist, of Willamsport, developed the information that such a specimen could not possibly be native to this climate, and that it must have escaped from some one's collection. The belief prevails that it escaped from a traveling curiosity show now located at Indian Park.

A freight train ran over a skunk above Oil City last week and the caboose of the train was left near the Union depot in that town. The odor of the dead skunk soon reached the sleeping rooms of the hotels in the vicinity of the station and there was a persistent call to the night porters by by guests who believed the gas pines had broken loose and there was danger of their being asphyxiated. Passengers on the early morning express trains which stopped to change engines thought the noxious scent arose from the oil refineries. The railroad men whose duty calls them to the station were too busy keeping out of the windward of the fragments of the dead animal that plastered the running gear of the caboose to undeceive the misguided travelers as to the real nature of the odor, and the fair reputation of Oil City for purity of air and agreeable surroundings was blasted by the reports these travelers made of conditions that encoutered them while they were en route through the city from Buffalo to Pittsburg.

It was about to be interred in Potter's Field, when it was discovered, that he had money enough in his satchel to bury him decently. The grave in Potter's Field near was closed and one dug in another cemetery. Just before interment was made there he was identified as a civil war veteran. A party which had searched in the woods and fields all day, and had dragged the Schuylkill canal with grappling hooks, in its endeavors to locate Maymie Martin, of Hamburg, who had been missing several days, came across her body, hanging from a tree, within a half mile of her home. The suicide had used several strands of twine, taken from the factory where she was last employed. When found her feet touched the earth.

Dr. L. S. Claggett, of Blairsville, recently lost the thumb and forefinger of his left hand, as the result of having them caught between the chain and a cogwheel on his automobile. It seems he was cleaning the machine while the motor was in motion. The glove on the left hand was caught between the wheel and chain, causing the accident. The fingers were crushed so badly that they were amputated only a short time after the accident. The thumb was taken off at the first joint and the finger at the second.

Delayed Attention Costs Money.

Your house wears out if not painted. It costs more to repair it than it costs to paint it. It don't cost much to paint with the L. & M. Paint, because 4 gallons of L. & M. Paint and 3 gallons of Linseed Oil makes seven gallons of ready-for-use paint at a cost of about $1.30 per gallon. You can mix yourself. Thirty-five years use in every part of the United States proves it. Atlantic City & Pittsburg Fence Tests, made by the Master Painters Association,. prove it.

FAITHFUL DOG BROUGHT HELP TO INJURED MASTER.

Porth Northrup, the Auctioneer, Painfully Hurt.

Port Northrup, the well known auctioneer, is confined to his home on Hawes street by a badly injured leg, sustained when a log rolled on him, and thereby hangs a tale a little out of the ordinary, in which a dog plays an important part.

Mr. Northrup was working for G. M. Clark on Table Rock mountain on Monday of last week, and while skidding a log down the mountain side, the tree swung around, striking him on the leg a hard blow, tearing the legiments loose and disabling him.

The injured man lay on the ground suffering intense pain, with the nearest house over a mile away, and down the steep mountain side. Mr. Northrup's dog came from the shade where it had been sleeping, and with almost human intelligence gave signs of understanding the predicament his master was in.

After looking his master over, apparently, the dog with a bark dashed away, and down the mountain side. At the Eastern approach to the James street bridge, the canine came upon J. Monroe Ayers, who was doing some work there, and commenced to bark, and run up the mountain side.

Mr. Ayers paid but little attention to the canine at first, but when the dog kept on barking and running back and forth, he realized that something was wrong, and with a kind word to the dog started in the animal's wake. Up the monutain side they climbed, the dog keeping a little in advance and looking back now and then to see if Mr. Ayers was following.

After a hard climb they came upon Mr. Northrup, and the dog's joy was great when Mr. Ayers kneeled beside his master. At first it was thought that Mr. Northrup had sustained a broken leg, but examination disclosed the fact that the legiments had been torn badly, making a serious and painful injury. He is now at his home resting comfortably.

He holds in high regard his faithful and intelligent dog, and it is well that he should.

PAID $250 TO HAVE FAKE TRANSMUTATION WORKED.

Scranton Man Fleeced. by Smooth Gent Claiming Strange Power.

The transmutation craze which has prevailed in Scranton since Dr. F. W. Lange announced his alleged discoveries, took a ludricous turn on Tuesday, when it was learned that Martin Gurdis had been fleeced out of $250. It cost him that amount to witness an experiment by a stranger who claimed the power of transforming brown paper into twenty dollar gold certificates

"Who are you?" inquired Gurdis, when a stranger appeared at his kitchen door Tuesday night. "I'm a wonder worker," replied the other, and to prove it he picked up a large rhubarb leaf, placed it to his lips and with feeling that recalled scenes across the sea played "Home, Sweet Home." The visitor declared that he carried chemicals with which he could make $20 bills out of brown paper. Exhibiting three bottles of liquid, he calied for a real bill. "I must have one," he explained to get the impression.

The bill was furnished and after being dipped into the bottles and thoroughly saturated, the wizard smoothed out and placed it between two thin slips. These were tied between two pieces of cardboard. I'm going to sleep on it," he announced, "and tomorrow morning there will be three gold certificates between the pasteboards."

At Gurdis' request the experiment was repeated with several other bills, each being peeled from a roll which Mrs. Gurdis took from a dresser in an adjoining room. The stranger saw her replace the roll before the family retired.

Tuesday morning the family woke to find that stranger and money were missing. The roll, together with Mrs. Gurdis' gold watch, had been taken from the dresser, and only the pasteboard and black paper remained under the pillow.

NEWS OF THE GRANGE

Conducted by A. T. LILLEY

At recent session of Pomona grange Mrs. Meade Thomas of Troy grange was elected and installed as Pomona to fill vacancy caused by death of Mrs C. P. Shaw of Columbia.

The committee on revision of Pomona grange by-laws was continued to report at next regular meeting in August.

The place for the August session of Pomona was left to Pomona lecturer to secure and report.

The death of Pomona Master C. P. Shaw on the 2nd instant is regretted by many members of the order who ever think of him as an enthusiastic worker in whatever he deemed best for agricultural interests either on the farm or in ways of legislation.

The vacancies caused by death of the Worthy Master and the resignation of the Worthy Secretary should receive the attention of the most faithful members of the order in Pomona No. 23. Those who are thoroughly imbued with the true spirit of the order should without fear or personal friendship strive for the uplifting of the special work that has been delegated to the district grange. Renewed effort along the lines of grange work ought to be the aim of all in order to attain to the high position of mental, moral or scientific action designed by the organizers of the order of Patrons of Husbandry. The onlookers and the commentators are numerous but the workers are needed for active service to install and carry on the educational and financial interests of the members who believe in unity of action in order to gain and maintain a true position among the activities of men.

In response to the following, a goodly number of patrons assembled at Troy grange hall: "The undersigned committees, who have been authorized by Columbia and Troy granges to lay plans for a Western Bradford grange picnic the coming fall, most respectfully invite and urge——grange to unite with eighteen other granges in the above mentioned territory who will be asked the same as your grange is, to elect a committee of three to meet at the Troy grange hall on Friday, June 3rd at one o'clock p. m., sharp, for the purpose of making arrangements in detail to carry out the work as above indicated. Union of action is essential to success. Please have your grange represented and report action promptly.

Committee—Finley Furman, M. E. Howland of Columbia grange: L. E. Packard, Meade Thomas and J. F. Hunt of Troy grange."

J. F. Hunt called the meeting to order and the following officers were elected: President, Hon. L. T. Manley; Vice President, John F. Hunt; Secretary, Finley Furman; Treasurer, B. E. Rockwell; Committee to secure speakers, Finley Furman, A. T. Lilley, A. M. Cornell. The president, secretary and treasurer were authorized to act as executive committee. The finance committee consists of B. H. Weller, Alonzo Stevenson, D. R. Nichols, George Wightman, M. E. Howland, Asa Stevens, A. T. Lilley and George Haight. Committee on Fair Grounds: L. Packard and A. Scott. It was decided to have picnic on Troy Fair Grounds on the tenth of August. J. F. Hunt was appointed as committee on music.

This picnic territory, with a membership of more than twenty-five hundred, consists of the following grange: Columbia, Open Hand Union, Ulster, Ondawa, Troy, Towanda Valley, Smithfield, Lincoln, West Granville, Ona, Granville Center, Beech Flats, Keystone, Armenia, Gilbert, Laurel Hill, Mayflower and Valley.

The Canton and LeRoy telephone line is officered principally by members of the grange, elected about a week ago.

Tioga county Pomona grange No. 30 meets with North Union grange near Canton on the 16th and 17th of June. National lecturer, Oliver Wilson, will be in attendance with State Lecturer, E. B. Dorsett.

"The Woman's work committee of a wide awake grange state desires to extend the scope of its work to cover what is known in cities as civic improvements. The women of our state in both town and country are rallying all their forces on these lines. The results accomplish are very gratifying. In one city alone its women not only added to the cleanliness of its streets and alleys, but have succeded in preventing epidemic and contagious diseases. Thus you see how much may be accomplished and how easily a few willing hands and hearts can bring about these desirable conditions. It is a work greatly needed in the rural districts and is a legitimate work of the grange. It will add to the attractiveness and financial value of our homes. Sisters, will you every part of theficeben.afmh you do your part in these lines of education and helpfulness? In almost every part of the state there are places of real beauty to which we have had access, but which for business purposes are being destroyed. A beautiful grove, a pretty lake, a winding stream, or a wooded hillside, etc., that we should save for our own posterity's reception and pleasure. Let us deprecate ruthless destruction and if possible, secure bits of beauty for public parks. It might be in your neighborhood some one owning one of these beauty spots could be persuaded to give or sell it to the township, a few acres of such as a lasting memorial to themselves or some of their loved ones, such property to be under the control of the township board. The committee desires to emphasize the subject of civic improvements until our country homes come to represent the country beautiful. No people in the world have such favorable conditions as are found around our country homes for this purpose. Make your home surroundings attractive and you will find a reward in keeping your boys and girls contented there more years; it will draw to you the best society and in all ways enrich your lives."

W. C. T. U.

Edited by County Press Superintendent. Correspondence solicited. Address Box No. 132, New Albany, Pa.

There are nineteen unions in Bradford county with a membership of over six hundred. This consists of the little leaven that is working for total abstainance of the individual and the prohibition of the liquor traffic for the nation. The press is one of the greatest factors in making temperance sentiment and we are glad to note that many of our most conservative papers are giving space for temperance work.

The battle rages fiercely and the victories are glorious which is stimulating to the workers for righteousness.

In a recent address delivered in Chicago Governor Stubbs of Kansas, cited an instance to show how effectively prohibition closes up some worthy enterprises. The case is that of a home for wives of inebriates, established to use the governor's expression, "before prohibition settled in good and hard in Kansas." In three months or so, he said it was full to the eaves. Five months after we abolished the saloons there wasn't a woman in it, and to keep the endowment, they have had to turn it into a home for friendless girls. In other words, not that the saloon is overthrown, Kansas has gone back to her legitimate business of home making.

Women taxpayers are permitted to vote on propositions for the bonding of New York State villages for improvements in a bill which became a law April 22.

The meeting of Nebraska temperance forces, held at Lincoln, in March, resolved itself into the Nebraska County Option League, for the purpose of conducting a campaign for county option. A number of members of the State legislature were elected to the offices of the society, its president being State Senator E. P. Brown.

A frank comparison as to the character of the saloon was given a short time ago by the Wholesalers and Retailer's Review of San Francisco.

It said: "A man who knows the saloons well, can honestly say that most of them have forfeited their right to live."

Latest news from Mrs. Norrish bears the information that she is well and enjoying every step of the way; riding in observation cars, two-wheeled gigs, and tally-ho coaches, through the beautiful lake region of Killarney, and the peat bogs of Ireland, varied by the climbing of hundreds of stone steps of ruined castles, and visiting convents and admiring the beauties of Irish lace. The next message will bring the news from the Glasgow convention.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

(Communicated.)

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on Saturday last at the home of Mrs. Lundy with nineteen members present. The storm prevented a larger attendance. This was the annual meeting of the flower mission of the Union. The program was arranged for that occasion by Mrs. Lundy, county and local superintendent of that department. The meeting was opened by singing, repeating the Lord's prayer in concert, reading scripture texts by each member, then the business of the union. It was voted to have parlor meeting in July at the home of Mrs. Stanley Moore. The program consisted of singing, a short talk by Mrs. Barcus on the history objects and aims of the flower mission, paying a touching tribute to Mrs. Reiker, a sister of Mrs. Norrish, now deceased, who in her many years of invalidism did so much to make others happy by little tokens of her love from the sick room she occupied so long. A paper by Mrs. Holmes, reading by Mrs. Smiley, the mission of the flowers; other readings by Miss Leah Eilenberger, Mrs. Rahm closing with a reading; "The Beatitudes of the Blossoms" and prayer by Mrs. Mae Fery. After adjournment all repaired to a room where tables were filled with beautiful flowers and while the storm raged without, hearts were happy and hands were busy arranging the flowers into beautiful bouquets to send to the sick and shut ins, seventy in all, and as they were presented, many "thank you," and am glad you remebered me, by the recipients. Truly "It is more blessed to give than to receive" even though it be only a cup of cold water or bunch of flowers in the name of the Master who went about doing good.

The young Roxbury school teacher as she went to her school in Boston lamenting the waste of flowers in the fields conceived the idea of taking a basketfull of flowers at the end of each week to the children of the slums. She little thought this simple act simply done would extend so far and wide, but when it reached through the New York Observer a poor suffering girl in Louisville, Ky., made a hopeless invalid by an accident it touched a responsive cord in her heart and she took up the work in her own city. Soon after Frances Willard visited the city, heard of her work, sought her out and another department was added to the W. C. T. U. The flower mission department with Jenny Cassady, the name of the invalid, as national superintendent and now this is carried out in all the Unions and barrels of flowers and other delicacies are sent to city missions also.

I cannot see the fragrant flowers
Placed on my casket lid
So give to me the sweetest one
While I am here, instead.

Come to Towanda and enjoy life.

Certainly a great place—Towanda.

TRUXTON KING

A Story of ....Graustark

CHAPTER XXI.

"YOU WILL BE MRS. KING."

It was late in the day when Truxton King was summoned to the devastated state chamber to be made a baron, and the prince completed the American's reward by presenting him with an ancient gold seal ring, one of the crown jewels.

Late that night it was reported at the castle that a large force of men were encamped on the opposite side of the river. A hundred campfires were gleaming against the distant uplands.

"The Grand Duke Paulus!" exclaimed Count Halfont. "Thank God he did not come a day earlier. We owe him nothing today, but yesterday—ah, he could have demanded much of us!"

In one of the wrecked approaches to the terrace, surrounded by fragments of stone and confronted by ugly destruction, sat a young man and a slender girl. There were no lights near them. The shadows were black and forbidding.

His arm was about her; her head nestled securely against his shoulder, and her slim hands were willing prisoners in one of his.

She was saying: "Truxton, dear, I did not love Eric Vos Engo. I just thought it was love. I never really knew what love was until you came into my life. That's what made it so hard. I had let him believe that I might care for him some day. And I did like him. So I"—

"You will never, never know how happy I am, Loraine!" he breathed into her ear.

"I hope I shall always bring happiness to you, Truxton," she murmured, faint with the joy of loving.

"You will make me very unhappy if you don't marry me tomorrow."

"I will marry you, Truxton, when we get to New York," she said, but not very firmly. He saw his advantage.

He held her close for a long time, his face buried in her hair. "Listen, darling! Won't you say you'll be my wife before I leave Graustark? I want you so much. I can't go away without you."

She hesitated. "When are you going, Truxton? You—you haven't told me."

It was what he wanted. "I am going next Monday," he said promptly. As a matter of fact, he had forgotten the day of the week they were now living in.

"Monday? Oh, dear!"

"Will you?"

"I—I must cable home first," she faltered.

"That's a mere detail, darling. Cable afterward. It will beat us home by three weeks. They'll know we're coming."

"I must ask John, really I must, Truxton," she protested faintly.

"Hurray!" he shouted—in a whisper. "He is so desperately in love he won't think of refusing anything we ask. Shall we set it for Saturday?"

They set it for Saturday without consulting John Tullis and then fell to discussing him. "He is very much in love with her," she said wistfully.

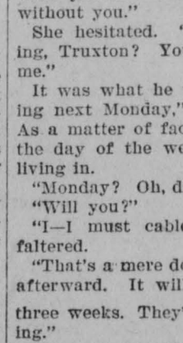
"And she loves him, Loraine. They will be very happy. She's wonderful!"

"Well, so is John. He's the most wonderful man in all this world."

"I am sure of it," he agreed magnanimously. "I saw him talking with her and the Duke of Perse as I came out awhile ago. They were going to the duke's rooms up there. The duke will offer no objections. He'll permit his daughter to select his next son-in-law."

"I shall be sorry to leave Graustark," she said dreamily after a long period of silent retrospection. "I've had the happiest year of my life here."

"I've had the busiest month of my life here. I'll never again say that the world is a dull place. I shudder when I think of what might have happened to you, my princess sweetheart, if I hadn't come to Edelweiss. I would not have found you." Feeling her trembling in his arms, he went on with whimsical good humor: "You would have been eaten up by the ogre long before this, or perhaps you would have succeeded in becoming a countess."



"YOU WILL BE MRS. KING."

"As it is, I shall be a baroness."

"In Graustark, but not in New York. That reminds me. You'll be more than a baroness—more than a princess. You will be a queen. Don't you catch the point? You will be Mrs. King."

* * * * * * *

The Grand Duke Paulus was distinctly annoyed. He had traveled many miles, endured quite a number of hardships, and all to no purpose. When dawn came his emissaries returned from the city with the lamentable information that the government had righted itself, that Marlanx's sensational revolution was at an end and that the regents would be highly honored if his excellency could overlook the distressingly chaotic conditions at court and condescend to pay the castle a visit.

The grand duke resolved that he would visit the castle in a very informal way, extend his congratulations and offer his services, which he knew would be declined with thanks. Incidentally he would mention the bond issue; also he would find the opportunity to suggest to the ministry that his government still was willing to make large grants and stupendous promises if any sort of arrangement could be made by which the system might be operated in conjunction with branch lines of the imperial roads.

And so it was that at midday he rode in pomp and splendor through the city gates, attended by his staff and a rather overpowering bodyguard.

The grand duke, with all the arrogance of a real personage, was late. It was not for him to consider the conditions that distressed the court of Graustark—not at all. He was a grand duke and he would take his own time in paying his respects. When he finally presented himself at the castle doors a sleepy group of attendants actually yawned in his presence.

No one had slept during the night just passed. Excitement and the suffering of others had denied slumber to one and all, even to those who had not slept for many days and nights. Now the reaction was upon them. Relaxation had succeeded tenseness.

When the grand duke entered the great, somber throne room he was confronted by a punctiliously polite assemblage, but every eyelid was as heavy as lead and as prone to sink.

The prince sat far back in the great chair of his ancestors, his sturdy legs sticking straight out in front of him. The grand duke advanced between the respectful lines and knelt at the foot of the throne.

"Arise, your highness," piped Bobby, with a quick glance at Count Halfont. It was a faint, faraway voice that uttered the gracious command. "Graustark welcomes the Grand Duke Paulus. It is my pleasure to—to"— A helpless look came into his eyes. He looked everywhere for support. The grand duke saw that he had forgotten the rehearsed speech and smiled benignly as he stepped forward and kissed the hand that had been extended somewhat uncertainly.

"My most respectful homage to your majesty. The felicitations of my emperor and the warmest protestations of friendship from his people."

With this as a prologue he engaged himself in the ever pleasurable task of delivering a long congratulatory address. After five minutes of high sounding platitudes he again turned to the prince. It was then that he received his first shock.

Prince Robin was sound asleep. His head was slipping sidewise along the satiny back of the big chair, and his chin was very low in the laces at his neck. The grand duke coughed emphatically, cleared his throat and grew very red in the face.

The court of Graustark was distinctly dismayed.

"His majesty appears to have—ahem—gone to sleep," remarked the grand duke tartly, interrupting himself to address the prime minister.

"He is very tired, your excellency," said Count Halfont, very much distressed. "Pray consider what he has been through during the"—

"Ah, my dear count, do not apologize for him. I quite understand Ahem! Ahem!" Still, he was very red in the face.

"I will awaken him, your excellency," said the prime minister, edging toward the throne.

"Not at all, sir!" protested the visitor. "Permit him to have his sleep out, sir. I will not have him disturbed. Who am I that I should defeat the claims of nature? It is my pleasure to wait until his majesty's nap is over. Then he may dismiss us, but not until we have cried 'Long live the prince!'"

For awhile they stood in awkward silence, this notable gathering of men and women. Then the prime minister in hushed tones suggested that it would be eminently proper under the circumstances for all present to be seated. He was under the impression that his serene highness would sleep long and soundly.

Stiff backed and uncomfortable, the court sat and waited. No one pretended to conceal the blissful yawns that would not be denied. A drowsy, ineffably languid feeling took possession of the entire assemblage.

The prime minister sat at the foot of the throne and nodded in spite of himself. John Tullis, far back near the wall, had his head on his hand, bravely fighting off the persistent demon. Prince Dantan of Dawsbergen was sound asleep.

The grand duke was wide awake. He saw it all and was equal to the occasion. After all, he was a kindly old gentleman and, once his moment of mortification was over, he was not above charity.

Bobby's poor little head had slipped over to a most uncomfortable position against the arm of the chair. Putting his finger to lips, the grand duke tiptoed carefully up to the throne. With very gentle hands he lifted Bobby's head and, infinitely tender, stuffed a throne cushion behind the curly head. A splendid smile in his eyes, he tiptoed back to his chair.

As he passed Count Halfont, who had risen, he whispered:

"Dear little man: I do not forget, my lord, that I was once a boy. God bless him!"

Then he sat down, conscious of a fine feeling of goodness, folded his arms across his expansive chest and allowed his beaming eyes to rest upon the sleeping boy far back in the chair of state. Incidentally he decided to delay a few days before taking up the bond question with the ministry.

The grand duke was not an ordinary diplomat.

In one of the curtained windows, far removed from the throne, sat Truxton King and Loraine Tullis.

All about them people were watching the delicate little scene, smiling drowsily at the grand duke's tender comedy. No one was looking at the two in the curtained recess. Her hand was in his; her head sank slowly toward his inviting shoulder. Her heavy lids drooped lower and lower, refusing to obey the slender will that argued against complete surrender. At last her soft, regular breathing told him that she was asleep. Awaiting his opportunity, he tenderly kissed the soft brown hair, murmured a gentle word of love and settled his own head against the thick cushions.

Everywhere they dozed and nodded. The grand duke smiled and blinked his little eyes. He was very wide awake.

That is how he happened to see the prince move restlessly and half open his sleep bound eyes. The grand duke leaned forward with his hand to his ear and listened. He had seen the boy's lips move. From dreamland came Bobby's belated "Good ni-ight."
